COWIN COPYCATS FOR OTHER VAX, BLOOD BANK REGISTRY

The Centre plans to clone the Covid Vaccine Intelligence Network (CoWIN) for other immunisation programmes

TWO PLATFORMS ARE IN THE WORKS

Two platforms on the lines of CoWIN are in the works, said National Health Authority Chief Executive Officer R S Sharma. "We won't touch CoWIN, but we will make a clone on the same principles. We will be creating two other platforms — one for blood banks and another for the universal immunisation programme," he said in an interview to Express

NEW SYSTEMS TO BE LAUNCHED THIS YEAR

- "Work has already started. It will take a couple of months for us to create it. We will be launching it by this year," said Sharma, the main architect of the indigenous CoWIN app

WILL MODI MAKE PEACE OVERTURES DURING J&K VISIT?

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

WITH Prime Minister Narendra Modi scheduled to visit J&K on April 24 — his first after Article 370 was hollowed out in August 2019 — there is quiet anticipation of bilateral peace overtures from him in the wake of the change of guard in Pakistan.

Modi had conveyed India's desire for peace and stability in the region free of terror in his felicitation tweet to new Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif. Shehbaz, while thanking Modi, said: "Pakistan desires peaceful & cooperative ties with India. Peaceful settlement of outstanding disputes including Jammu & Kashmir is indispensable."

Bilateral relations when Shehbaz's predecessor Imran Khan was in the saddle had bottomed as he had burnt his bridges by being a hawk and making personal remarks against Modi. In contrast, Shehbaz is a seasoned politician. Also, the Pakistan Army is inclined towards resumption of dialogue with India.

New projects

Apart from interacting with panchayat members, the prime minister is likely to launch multiple industrial investment and development projects in J&K during his visit

The exchange of messages between Modi and Shehbaz has sent positive vibes in J&K. Jammu-based political commentator Rekha Choudhary said Modi may send some positive signals to Pakistan during his address at a public rally in Samba, close to the International Border in J&K. "He may talk of peace between the two neighbouring countries and Pakistan taking up responsibility that its soil is not used for terror. But there will be no accusations," she said.

For over a year, Indian and Pakistani troops have strictly adhered to the November 2003 border ceasefire pact. The Line of Control and International Border in J&K have been calm since February 25 last year.

Modi would be visiting the Palli panchayat in Samba district of Jammu to mark the National Panchayati Raj Diwas celebrations. From there, he will address representatives of around 700 panchayats across the country virtually. About 30,000 representatives of the Panchayati Raj Institutions of J&K are expected to attend the event. The PM's public rally would be his third so far in Samba. Thousands of people from different parts of Jammu region are expected to attend the rally.

At an all-party meeting of J&K leaders last year, Modi had famously said he wanted to remove the Dilli ki doori (distance from Delhi) and dil ki doori (distance from the heart).

Rights abuse in US too: Jaishankar

IN a strong push back to US pressure tactics, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said on Wednesday that India is equally concerned about the human rights abuse in the US. "We also take our views on other people's human rights situation, including that of the United States. So, we take up a human rights issues when they arise in this country, especially when they pertain to our community," Jaishankar said in Washington.

On Monday, Secretary of State Antony Blinken had said the US was monitoring a rise in human rights abuses in India.

"People are entitled to have views about us. But we are also equally entitled to have views about their views and about the interests, and lobbies which drive that," he said. ENS

FIR filed against KSE in contractor suicide case

Case of abetment to suicide against minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

BASED on a complaint filed by a family member of contractor Santosh Patil, who allegedly died by suicide at a hotel in Udupi, the police here registered a First Information Report (FIR) against Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister KS Eshwarappa and his associates for abetment to suicide on Wednesday.

Patil's family members reached Udupi late on Tuesday night and said that they will not move the body from the hotel till Eshwarappa and his associates were arrested. Later, they agreed and police teams arrived to conduct the inquest and other formalities. The Forensic Sciences Laboratory staff entered the hotel room around 9.30 am and collected fingerprints and other evidence till 3 pm. A foul smell had started emanating from the body as it had been lying there for two nights since Patil committed suicide, police sources said.

The postmortem was conducted at the Kasturba Medical College, Manipal around 8.30 pm on Wednesday. Initially, Santosh Patil's brother Girish had said that he did not want to take the body till the arrests were made. However by 8.45 pm, the body was taken to Belagavi after police officials convinced the family members that a thorough probe will be held and justice done to the family.

Pledged jewellery to raise money: Contractor's wife

Belagavi: Jayashree Patil, wife of Belagavi-based civil contractor Santosh Patil, who committed suicide in Udupi on Tuesday, said she pledged her two gold chains and four gold bangles to raise some money to help her husband.

Family members said that Santosh had completed road works worth Rs 4 crore ahead of a festival at the local Sri Laxmidevi Temple at Hindalga village in Belagavi district. They alleged that Eshwarappa and his associates were demanding 40 per cent commission to get the bills cleared which led to his suicide.

Basavaraj and Ramesh are among Eshwarappa's associates named in the FIR, which has been filed under Section 306 read with 34 of IPC (abetment of suicide), the police said. MORE REPORTS: P4

New policy to monetise non-minable land

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN a move aimed at increasing investment and creating jobs in the coal sector, the Union Cabinet on Wednesday cleared a policy to monetise land parcels acquired under the Coal Bearing Areas (CBA) Act, which are mined out or are practically unsuitable for coal mining. Such land units will now be used for development of infrastructure relating to coal and energy.

The CBA Act provides for acquisition of coal-bearing lands and their vesting in government companies, free from any encumbrance. The new policy provides for utilisation of idle land owned by state-owned coal firms such as Coal India and its subsidiaries. The policy allows only leasing of the land for specified purposes. Coal firms can deploy private capital in joint projects for coal and energy-related infrastructure development activities.

The lands can be used to set up coal washeries, conveyor systems, coal handling plants, railway sidings, thermal and renewable power projects etc. The lands can also be used for rehabilitation and resettlement of project affected families, compensatory afforestation, and coal gasification.

Idle lands are prone to encroachment and entail avoidable expenditure on security and maintenance. The government hopes establishing infrastructure, without transferring ownership from state-owned companies, will help generate direct and indirect employment.

Investment in backward areas, local industry push

The policy is expected to unlock land infrastructure development that would encourage investment in backward areas. It would also prevent fresh acquisition of land and related displacement and promote local industries

Unlocking non-minable land will also help Coal India reduce its cost of operations as it will be able to set up coal-related infrastructure and solar plants on its own land in partnership with the private sector, a government release said. The new policy will also make coal gasification projects viable as coal needs not be transported to distant places, it added.

PROTESTORS REJECT MAHINDA'S TALKS OFFER

DILRUKSHI HANDUNNETTI @ Colombo

COLOMBO'S beleaguered Rajapaksa administration has responded to snowballing protests calling for the collective resignation of President Gotabaya Rajapaksa and the government, by offering to discuss demands with the protestors.

Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa on Tuesday expressed his willingness to hold discussions with the protestors who were camping out at Colombo's iconic Galle Face Green for the fifth day in succession demanding an urgent system change. Protestors who are largely independent and without leadership structures have responded in the negative.

"There is no possibility of discussions, and this is the general position of protestors. Before any discussions take place, the president must resign, together with his cabinet. We are calling for a system overhaul and in that, the Rajapaksa family and this government has no place," said Thisath Weerakkody (29), a techie who is among the ever increasing protestors.

The Colombo administration's already fragile reputation took a nosedive with Tuesday's announcement of urgent debt restructuring which begins with the immediate suspension of repayment of external debts. The Central Bank of Sri Lanka has announced that repayment of loans will be halted in order to ensure essential supplies to the public while debt restructuring will go through with expert assistance. The government is expected to hold urgent discussion with the IMF next week.

$2 bn more Indian aid?

India is looking at offering $2 bn more as aid to Sri Lanka to regain the turf it lost to China in the past, according to Reuters. India has so far committed $1.9 bn in loans, credit lines and currency swaps. China has given a $1.3 bn syndicated loan and a $1.5 bn-yuan denominated swap

Sri Lanka has historically maintained a solid track record in external debt servicing. However, given the fragile status of the island's economy, the government has decided to go for a 'soft default' in the short term until restructuring of existing loans is completed as a priority with a view to avoiding a 'hard default'.

"Sri Lanka has lost its ability to repay foreign debt. It has come to a point that debt repayments are both challenging and impossible," Dr Nandalal Weerasinghe, the recently appointed Central Bank chief told reporters. This position has already been conveyed to the creditors and will not apply to any new facilities. Sri Lanka has around $ 6 billion of external debt servicing for the next three quarters. Good news! Normal monsoon for 4th year on the trot

Sudden showers in Bengaluru on Wednesday brought down temperatures and turned the weather pleasant | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

HERE'S good news for farmers: There will be plentiful rain this year too. Karnataka is likely to get normal rainfall for the fourth consecutive year, private met agency Skymet has predicted. But experts pointed out that they will have to wait and watch the uniform rainfall pattern across the state. This year, Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) had predicted more rain during the summer.

Former director of Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC) and consultant Srinivasa Reddy told TNIE that usually, after two years of normal rainfall, there is a tendency for a deficit monsoon, or the other way around. But in Karnataka, since 2019, the state has had normal rainfall, sometimes above normal too. However, he said the IMD is expected to release its forecast in a week, and a clearer picture of the monsoon will emerge.

Since 2000 till 2018 or 2019, Karnataka has been under drought for 15 of the 18 years. But things have changed, and some parts of the state even experienced floods.

Prof MB Rajegowda, agrometeorologist and former Registrar, University of Agriculture Sciences (UAS), explained that in Karnataka, normal rainfall during the South-West Monsoon is in the range of 850-870mm. For the past couple of years, the state has seen normal or above normal rainfall. CONTINUED ON: P2

BDA may pledge sites to banks to raise funds

Authority may need money for new project

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) has filed an affidavit before the Supreme Court that it would pledge a chunk of its corner sites with any bank in India to pull itself out of the red and mobilise funds for the upcoming Dr K Shivaram Karanth Layout. BDA has not yet handed over any site to the bank, but it would take that route when faced with resource crunch during the development of the layout, sources said.

TNIE has access to a copy of the affidavit BDA filed before the apex court on January 11, 2022. This is the first time since its inception that BDA is resorting to a securitisation method to raise funds, the source said. "A corner site can only be auctioned and never sold. But if the same is mortgaged to a bank as security, BDA would get a handsome sum of say up to 70% of site value from the bank, and it could be used for development activity. Five years down the line, the site's value would have soared and it could be auctioned. This would help BDA repay the debt to the bank with the bonus of all the infrastructure work completed," he added.

> We can auction the sites at a later date when the prices would have gone up considerably. This would help BDA repay the debt to the bank with the bonus of all the infrastructure work completed.
> Sources in BDA

BDA Commissioner Rajesh Gowda said that at present, the authority is not facing any fund crunch to take up works at Dr Shivaram Karanth Layout. "Whenever the need arises, we will think of approaching the bank," he said. Another senior official said that BDA has over Rs 1,000 crore in cash after selling its corner sites in various rounds of auction. The money will be utilised to take up initial works at the layout.

This will be BDA's second biggest layout with nearly 24,000 sites spread across 3,456 acres.

April showers cool down heated city

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

THERE was a cheerful surprise on Wednesday afternoon -- gusty winds and rain buffeted Bengaluru, turning it back into AC City for a brief spell. The sticky summer heat was replaced with cool zephyrs, as 12.1 mm of rain descended on the city around 3.30pm.

According to statistics provided by the India Meteorological Department, Kengeri, Hampinagar, Nagapura, Gollahalli and Dasarahalli received 30.5mm rain, as of 6:30 Wednesday evening. Hemmigepura in RR Nagar seemed to have taken the brunt of the rain spell, with 37mm recorded in the area, according to Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC). Bangalore University's Jnanabharathi campus was also hit with 27.5mm of rain, cooling down the weather considerably.

But the rain brought with it a number of problems, especially that of falling trees and roads turning into rivers. BBMP recorded a total of 12 tree-related accidents on Wednesday, including one near its own headquarters.

To prepare for the upcoming monsoon and more accidents, BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta ordered an emergency meeting on Wednesday. He said that all accidents must be resolved as soon as complaints are received, or strict action will be taken against the officials.

"No citizen should face problems. BBMP teams should immediately reach places where trees or branches have fallen, or wherever rainwater gets blocked. They should immediately resolve the issues and facilitate smooth traffic," he said on Wednesday, during the virtual emergency meeting.

He also said that preventative measures must be taken by officials in coordination with various departments to identify and avoid water blockages, especially in areas close to rajakaluves.

It could be a normal monsoon

"In the rainfall pattern, we are in the half of the positive cycle, where each cycle is 16 years. This also means that the state, which has witnessed four consecutive years of normal rainfall, could see normal monsoons for the next couple of years," Prof MB Rajegowda, agrometeorologist and former Registrar, University of Agriculture Sciences (UAS) said. Farmers can go for normal, long duration crops, he added. In 2021, most parts of the state received good pre-monsoon showers. This year too, similar rainfall is expected. In some places, including Mysuru and Chamarajanagara and parts of North Karnataka, farmers are opting for pre-monsoon crops. "With pre-monsoon rain expected to be good, farmers can go for 80-day crops (short duration crops) like green gram, black gram, sesame, horse gram and more. This starts in mid-March," he added.

Accenture, IISc to conduct R&D on AI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ACCENTURE and IISc will jointly develop intellectual properties and thought leadership in next-generation computing that enables edge artificial intelligence. The two will collaborate on R&D in cloud continuum and neuromorphic computing at its newly established Accenture Centre for Advanced Computing.

While the cloud continuum encompasses several forms of ownership and location (from public to private to hybrid to co-location to multi-cloud and edge), all of which are dynamically enabled by next-generation connectivity such as 5G and software-defined networks. Neuromorphic computing is a method of computer engineering in which elements of a computer are modelled after systems in the human brain and nervous system.

Explaining the need for such a collaboration, Mahesh Zurale, Senior Managing Director, Lead—Advanced Technology Centres in India, Accenture said, "Today's AI systems can interpret spoken commands, recognise objects and gestures, navigate, plan and make decisions, which are driving demand for even more powerful AI-driven experiences. The next wave of smart products and environments will require more advanced computing technologies,"

BDA demolishes, takes control of assets worth Rs 75cr

BENGALURU: After a lull, Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) on Tuesday restarted the process of demolishing encroachments that had come up on its properties across the city. A total of 1.45 acres, valued at Rs 75 crore, was recovered from Devarachikkanahalli, which comes under BTM Layout 4th Stage. The demolition drive began at 9am and continued up to 5pm. The BDA Task Force and Hulimavu police were involved in the operations. According to an official release, 23 guntas of space allotted for a school, and 36.5 guntas of land meant for a BMTC bus depot, had been encroached, and squatters had built temporary sheds and carried on businesses. They were demolished and the assets confiscated, it said. "At least 10 temporary sheds and shop blocks were cleared using six JCBs," it said. The total value of both these properties is estimated to be around Rs 75 crore. BDA Chairman SR Vishwanath said, "The operation will continue. We have identified thousands of crores of assets belonging to the BDA and will reclaim them."

Stir to hit projects, garbage collection

ENS @Bengaluru

THE month-long strike called by the Karnataka State Contractors' Association will affect ongoing works in Bengaluru. Garbage collection, road works, laying of water and sewage pipelines and flyover projects will be impacted, admit association members. They have asked citizens to take measures in advance, as the strike will start by April-end.

Works by BBMP will also be affected as members of the BBMP Contractors' Association have also extended support. The Garbage Contractors Association has also extended support, however, the members admitted that they are a part of essential services. "But pending bills have to be cleared, and we face a lot of trouble from BBMP. We are yet to get our dues and there are many association members on the verge of giving up, like Santosh Patil," said S N Balasubramanian, president of BBMP Garbage Contractors' Association.

Of one lakh registered contractors in the state, around 45,000 are in Bengaluru alone, handling different types of works, including housing, roads, lakes, parks, health and garbage. This includes contractors from Grade-A to Grade-4.

"In Bengaluru, there are ongoing works to the tune of around Rs 10,000 crore, including works worth Rs 5,000 crore under Nagarothana. The strike will draw the attention of government agencies to pending bills, the attitude of officials and troubles the contractors are facing. When the government demands that work be executed on time, it should also clear payments on time. Our payments are pending for more than three years," said R Ambikapathi, President of BBMP Contractors' Association.

PETER VIDAL

14th April : My top sign today is Scorpio, the representative of everything that's secret, hidden, intense and deeply insightful. In other words it encourages everyone who loves to peer into life's hidden recesses, probing into everything that is normally concealed from our gaze. Sounds intriguing, doesn't it?

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Aries is known as a cardinal fire sign, a description which indicates that it is the toughest in the zodiac. However, blunt attempts to impose your will over the next few weeks may bring nothing but banana skins. My advice would be to check and double check all details - and check again.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Travel plans, new horizons and all forms of communication are powerfully highlighted by the current historic positions of helpful Jupiter and eccentric Uranus. You may be searching for romantic ecstasy. The good news is that your hopes may be fulfilled, but not yet. Just wait a while longer!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You should still keep domestic and family matters in the picture. If you can give more vent to your caring, compassionate qualities, the result will be much greater satisfaction. You see, you'll feel better if partners feel good. Selflessness pays!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Seldom have you been in such a strong position to carve a new niche for yourself. Yet you still seem to be in a rather shy phase and may pass up a number of interesting opportunities or invitations. But, then, it's always been in your nature to pick and choose.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It may soon become apparent just why you have to stay put and accept certain limitations. Yet all your instincts will be urging you to break out and abandon those obligations which have now become so onerous; there's no point in carrying the cares of the world on your shoulders.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Now that Mercury and Mars are on a collision course, joint arrangements, business and legal matters must be handled with utmost caution and your usual discretion. Don't over-commit yourself, otherwise you'll strain to fulfil all your obligations.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may as well accept the fact that certain people are bound to misunderstand you. Therefore, please try to make your intentions plain and express yourself as clearly and as directly as you can. Also, you must keep a close watch on financial developments.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You must press ahead, secure your independence and put other people in their place. No amount of pressure or persuasion or any other emotional blackmail must be allowed to hold you back. I'm saying that partly because, for once, you seem to be able to get things done without getting in a flap.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Steering others through a difficult patch will both lift your spirits and foster a general mood of happiness and satisfaction. You must, though, allow partners to have their say, otherwise they'll end up blaming you for holding them back - whether rightly or wrongly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
As a Capricorn, you are the last person who needs to ask for information to spread your wings or cover a lot of new ground. However, it now seems likely that you won't get very far without help from close friends. Teamwork is undoubtedly the best way to take your plans forward.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
There is a lot to be said for allowing things to cool down, especially at work. If you are doubtful about any personal project or relationship, then do not try to force the pace or insist that plans are put into effect prematurely. If you haven't got the details sorted out first, then you risk rejection.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You're on to a winner, but the real bone of contention at the moment seems to be a question of principle: are you really sure that you are prepared to risk a damaging argument over one of your unrealistic Piscean ideals? In other words, before you do anything else, you need to check your own motives.

OUR SON KEEPS ASKING ME ABOUT HIS FATHER: CONTRACTOR'S WIFE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

"MY three-year-old son keeps asking me where is his father and why is he not around," said Jayashree Patil, wife of Belagavi-based civil contractor Santosh Patil, who committed suicide in Udupi on Tuesday, unable to bear the financial burden he was facing as the Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Department had not cleared the bills for road works he had done at the Hindalga Gram Panchayat limits in Belagavi.

Just before committing suicide, Santosh had sent a WhatsApp message to media persons in Belagavi blaming RDPR Minster KS Eshwarappa for his death. He had earlier alleged that the minister and his associates were demanding 40 per cent as commission to clear the bills.

The death of Santosh, who was under pressure from money lenders that had funded him to take up the road works worth Rs4 crore in Belagavi, has come as a big shock to the family, especially to his wife Jayashree and his elderly mother.

"I am shattered. Eshwarappa has broken my family and made our children orphan. My husband was under pressure as the government and Eshwarappa were not ready to clear his bills of Rs 4 crore," Jayashree told KPCC president DK Shivakumar, who met her at their residence at Samarth Nagar in Belagavi on Wednesday.

Jayashree, wife of Santosh Patil

Angry at Eshwarappa's comment that her husband carried out all the road works without permission, Jayashree asked whether it is possible to take up so many civil works without the nod from authorities. "My husband met Eshwarappa along with Hindalga Gram Panchayat president Nagesh Manolkar before taking up the road works. We have several photos of their meetings," she added.

Jayashree said she had pledged her two gold chains and four gold bangles to raise some money for her husband to take up the road works. "We had invested everything we had on the works," she added.

Santosh's mother said that her son had taken money from various sources to complete the works. "Is it possible for a family like ours to spend Rs 4 crore? There was no option for him but to borrow money. He was upset and disturbed that his hard work did not pay off. He was cheated," she added.

DEATH WAS BY CONSUMING POISON: IGP

Inquest conducted, FSL team collects samples for further probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

THE inquest of the spot where Santosh Patil died was conducted in a detailed manner, and forensic experts, doctors and close family members were present during the procedure. It is death by consumption of poisonous substance, Inspector General of Police (Western Range) Devajyoti Ray said.

As per the complaint made by Prashanth Patil, cousin of the deceased, an FIR was registered against RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa, Basavaraj and Ramesh under Section 306 of IPC, the IGP added. Shifting of the body from the hotel room for postmortem was delayed as Santosh's brother Girish, a circle police inspector, and cousin Suresh Patil reportedly insisted that they would not allow the body to be shifted until all the accused are arrested. However, a team of police officials, including SP Vishnuvardhan, reportedly convinced them that conducting the postmortem cannot be delayed further as vital evidence could get diluted.

Police sources told TNIE that no suicide note was found during the inquest, though a pesticide bottle was found in the room. Experts from Regional FSL, Mangaluru, have taken samples for further analysis. The body was shifted for postmortem to Manipal by 5.10pm.

Meanwhile, police sources said Eshwarappa and the other accused named in the FIR will be sent notices to appear for investigation. Suresh Patil later told reporters that Santosh should not have taken the extreme step to end his life as his problem could have been solved and money arranged.

Contractors threaten to go on month-long strike

BOSKY KHANNA
@ Bengaluru

WORKS, mostly pertaining to the public works department, health and irrigation sectors across Karnataka – executed by over one lakh registered contractors in the state, are likely to be hit soon.

Stating that there should be no more contractors committing suicide and stressing upon government agencies to immediately clear pending dues of Rs 25,000 crore, members of the Karnataka State Contractors Association on Wednesday announced that they would go on a month-long strike anytime before April-end. Around 20,000 ongoing works totally worth Rs 1 lakh crore will be affected because of the strike.

The date will be set after a meeting with members of the emergency executive committee and all registered members of the association, said association president D Kempanna. He said that a rally will be held in Bengaluru on May 25 to press their demands and bring their plight into focus after the tragic suicide of contractor Santosh Patil in Udupi on Tuesday. "A memorandum will once again be submitted. Over the last two years, memorandums are being submitted, but the government has done nothing. Most of the contractors are on that path of breaking down, like Santosh Patil, and could take the extreme step. We do not want that to happen. The strike will be held to draw the attention of the government and citizens to our plight," he said.

Association vice-president R Ambikapathi said works worth Rs 1 lakh crore are going on in the state and a month-long protest will severely affect them. The biggest setback will be for road works. "But there is no other option now. We had also written to PM Narendra Modi, but got no response. We had met Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai during the pre-budget meeting and put forth our demands. He had assured us of addressing the issue, but later forgot," he said.

Association members said, "The government agencies will use the protest against us and impose penalties for delays in execution of works. But they do not pay penalties when they delay payments."

Kateel lambasts Congress, backs RDPR Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@ Mysuru

BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel on Wednesday came out in support of RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa who is under fire from several quarters to resign following the suicide of contractor Santosh Patil.

He blamed the opposition for time and again blowing up smaller issues and demanding resignation of ministers. When asked about Karnataka Pradesh Congress Commitee (KPCC) delegation calling on Governor Thaavarchand Ghalot seeking action against Eshwarappa, Kateel said, "Why Governor?... Let them meet the President." He said that the government has ordered for an inquiry and it will take action against those found guilty.

KSE SKIPS STATE EXECUTIVE MEET

Eshwarappa, who is participating in the BJP divisional meet in Mysuru along with BJP leaders V Somanna, Jagadish Shettar, Goapaliah, ST Somashekar, Prathap Simha and others left the venue to meet Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

Eshwarappa, who was busy attending a phone call for 15 minutes, tried to meet Kateel at the venue. As there were too many BJP leaders he quietly left for Bengaluru. He skipped the party workers' meeting held at the Dasara Exhibition Grounds.

BJP, RSS rally behind KSE, Santhosh speaks to PM

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

THE change in RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa's mood was apparent -- from the brink of resignation on Wednesday morning to a cheerful press conference by afternoon, where he declared that there was no question of quitting. The message was clear: he had got strong backing from the party high command and RSS leaders. Sources said that National General Secretary B L Santhosh called on Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the afternoon and discussed the issue, including its repercussions on the party and government ahead of the 2023 assembly polls. Santhosh spoke to Eshwarappa over phone before meeting Modi, they added.

With the BJP set to hold the state executive committee meeting on April 16 and 17 at Hosapete, party bosses were in no mood to upset a loyalist like Eshwarappa, who also represents the backward classes. "The question of disowning him does not arise as he is an asset to the party," remarked an OBC leader. After much thought, the party leadership has concluded that it would be more advantageous to back Eshwarappa, given the timing of the incident, as the party's rank and file are getting involved in organisational activities, and any harsh decision could demoralise the workers.

"Eshwarappa, a strong Sangh Parivar leader and BJP loyalist, obviously got Santhosh's backing, and the latter's decision is ultimate when it comes to Karnataka politics. He might have also spoken to Union Home Minister Amit Shah," claimed a source close to Eshwarappa. Hence, he was asked to not tender his resignation immediately as it would amount to the BJP government ceding to pressure tactics of the Congress. Some RSS veterans also backed Eshwarappa as they were not ready to let him down, especially with elections coming up, sources said.

In the event of a cabinet rejig, Eshwarappa's name was reportedly among those to be dropped from the cabinet, so that he could concentrate on the party organisation. Now, it remains to be seen how things pan out after the BJP state executive committee meeting with talk about the cabinet reshuffle, and murmurs of leadership change.

No question of resigning: Eshwarappa

Will talk to KSE: CM

MANGALURU: Responding to some reports that RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa is ready to put down his papers if asked by CM Basavaraj Bommai, the latter on Wednesday morning said he will hold a one-to-one discussion with him later in the day. During, the BJP meet, the CM was seen busy on phone with some senior party leader due to which the event was delayed by over 30 minutes. Sources said he was talking to BJP national president JP Nadda.

ENS@ Shivamogga

AMID mounting opposition pressure for his resignation over the suicide of civil contractor Santosh Patil, RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa on Wednesday reiterated that he would not resign from the Cabinet. He also wondered if a WhatsApp message can be treated as a "death note" and demanded for a probe into the "conspiracy" behind Santosh death.

"When Santhosh claimed that he was poor, then who sent him to Delhi? Sending a message through WhatsApp can't be termed as death note. Some others might have typed and sent it from his mobile," he claimed. Eshwarappa said he has already spoken in length about this issue with both Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and party state president Nalin Kumar Kateel. "In a day or two, I will meet CM Bommai personally," he said, adding that he had met Kateel in Mysuru and briefed him.

Eswharappa also made it clear that no top leader from the party high command spoke to him regarding the matter. Eshwarappa said he had filed a defamation case against Santosh and a television channel and accordingly notices were served. The minister said he has doubts whether Santosh became apprehensive after receiving the notice that led him to take such an extreme step.

Congress team meets Guv, wants Eshwarappa's resignation and arrest

ENS @ Bengaluru

A Congress delegation, led by KPCC president DK Shivakumar, former chief minister Siddaramaiah and other senior leaders, on Wednesday met Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot and demanded the expulsion of RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa from the Cabinet and his arrest over the suicide of Belagavi-based contractor Santosh Patil. In a letter submitted to the governor, they said that a criminal case punishable under Sec-306 of IPC and Sec-13 of the Prevention of Corruption Act and other provisions of law should be filed against Eshwarappa. He should be arrested immediately, they added.

Congress plans to gherao CM

Congress leaders are planning to gherao Chief Minister Basavraj Bommai on Thursday over corruption in the government.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar and others will put together six to seven teams that will tour all districts of the state in five days and target the government over corruption.

Congress leaders meet Santosh Patil's family on Wednesday

At a joint press meet with AICC general secretary in charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala, Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar referred to a letter written by Contractors' Association president Kempanna to PM Modi last year, alleging that 40 per cent commission was being sought by the state government. They alleged, "Santosh had gone to Udupi to meet Bommai. When he could not, he committed suicide. Eshwarappa should be arrested immediately and sacked from the cabinet."

KPCC announces ₹11 lakh aid to kin

BELAGAVI: A team of Congress leaders headed by KPCC president DK Shivakumar, former chief minister Siddaramaiah, and party state in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala met the family of contractor Santosh Patil. Soon after meeting the family on Wednesday, Shivakumar announced that the state unit of the Congress will give Rs 11 lakh to the Santosh's family. "We demand that the State Government announce an immediate compensation of Rs 1 crore to Santosh's family besides giving a government job to his wife Jayashree. The government should clear the Rs 4 crore bills of Santosh, who had spent the money to undertake 108 road works in Hindalga gram panchayat limits," Shivakumar added.

Probe before arrest, says Parameshwara

TUMAKURU: Former Deputy Chief Minister and senior Congress leader Dr G Parameshwara, although demanded that RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa be sacked from the Basavaraj Bommai Cabinet, maintained that just because the latter's name was mentioned in the suicide note, he should not be arrested. "He should resign first and a preliminary probe should be launched. If his involvement is established, then he must be arrested," Parameshwara added.

'Will file defamation case against Kempanna'

KOLAR: Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said that the Congress was trying to take political mileage from the contractor Santosh Patil suicide issue. Speaking to the media, he said that the Congress cannot threaten the government with baseless allegations and said the party was misusing Contractors' Association president Kempanna to tarish the image of the State Government. "I will file a defamation case against him," he said, adding that he will urge the CM to blacklist such contractors.

Bommai sees BJP wave in K'taka

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

AMID severe backlash over the suicide of civil contractor Santosh Patil who had levelled bribery charges on his Cabinet colleague KS Eshwarappa and communal incidents rocking Karnataka, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai claimed that there is a wave in favour of BJP in the state and exuded confidence on the party returning to power on its own in 2023.

Addressing a party workers' convention at Bantwal, he said the BJP government has performed in a manner bringing respect to the party workers and claimed that the government faced all challenges effectively, including the hijab row and is ready to face any challenges in the future. "Except 2-3 incidents, we have maintained law and order effectively. However, the Opposition is twisting all issues as it does not want them to be resolved. It wants to fool people for the sake of votes," he thundered.

CM Basavaraj Bommai at BJP workers' meet in Bantwal on Wednesday

He came down heavily on the Congress party stating that it is diminishing by the day and is getting disconnected from the people.

He said that the Coastal Regulatory Zone rules will be simplified in order to boost tourism in the coastal districts.

I will be the next CM, claims Yatnal

ENS @Vijayapura

VIJAYAPURA City MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal has expressed his aspiration of becoming chief minister, for the first time after Basavaraj Bommai took oath of office.

"I will become Chief Minister, why shouldn't I? I have all the abilities to be the new leader of this state. I don't have a single corruption charge against me in my entire political career," Yatnal said here on Wednesday.

This is the first time Yatnal has spoken on a change in leadership since Bommai took charge. Earlier, when B S Yediyurappa was at the helm of affairs, Yatnal would target him daily, and claim he would be the next CM. "I am neither involved in the mining scam nor have any charges against me of amassing illegal properties. If Prime Minister Narendra Modi wishes he can give me the responsibility of the state," he told reporters. "If the party high command agrees, the forthcoming assembly elections will be conducted under my leadership. I will ensure the party will win in at least 130 assembly segments."

Defending Eshwarappa, he said the government should investigate the legality of the Contractors' Association and verify whether it is run by contractors or Congressmen. There is no question of Eshwarappa resigning, Yatnal said.

More celebs to create awareness on organ donation

5,309 patients in state are on the waitlist

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

THERE is a huge gap between the number of people who have donated organs and the waiting list of patients for organs. As many as 5,309 patients in the state are on the waitlist. Surprisingly, families of 43 brain-dead people who are eligible for organ donation, declined to donate organs in 2020, 32 families declined in 2021, and this year, three families have declined, according to sources in the State Organ and Tissue Transplant Organisation of Karnataka (SOTTO).

> When we are alive, we can donate blood, and after death, we have the option of gifting our organs or tissues, or whole body for transplant or research. Voluntarily pledge to donate your organs and let your family and friends know that you have pledged, so they can honour that decision as and when the time comes for them to take the decision
> D Randeep, Commissioner for Health and Family Welfare

Concerned over the disparity, Minister for Health and Family Welfare Dr K Sudhakar is planning to rope in more celebrities to increase awareness on organ donation, since cadaveric organ donations have picked up after actor Sanchari Vijay set an example, as have eye donations after Puneeth Rajkumar's death.

According to Lijamol Joseph, chief transplant coordinator, SOTTO (formerly known as Jeevasarthakathe) of the State health department, families of as many as 105 brain-dead people donated organs (cadaveric organ donation) in the financial year April 2019-March 2020. But due to the Covid pandemic, there were no cadaveric donations by families from April 2020 to July 2020. From August 2020 to March 2021, there were 28 cadaveric donations. From April 2021 to March 2022, there were 91 cadaveric organ donations, despite the Covid second and third waves.

There were 24 cadaveric organ donations from April 2021 to June 2021, but after Sanchari Vijay's death, there were 26 cadaveric organ donations from July 2021 to October 2021, and 41 cadaveric donations after Puneeth Rajkumar's death. So far, 9,702 people have pledged at SOTTO to donate organs in case of brain death, with 751 pledging after Sanchari Vijay's death, and 8,431 pledging their organs after Puneeth's donation.

Yet, as many as 4,065 people are waiting for kidneys, 1,069 people are waiting for liver, 87 people are waiting for heart, 32 are waiting for lungs, 21 are waiting for heart and lungs, 19 are waiting for liver and kidney said Lijamol.

Firm dupes medical seat aspirants, parents of ₹1.8 cr

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A fraud company cheated around 10 students and parents of Rs. 1.81 crore on the pretext of getting them medical seats.

Venkatesh Murthy, a businessman, has accused Help Desk for You Services, located at Barton Centre on MG Road, of cheating him on the pretext of arranging a medical seat for his daughter. He alleged that his daughter had passed NEET in 2021 and applied for a medical seat. In November, representatives of the firm approached him claiming that they would arrange a medical seat for his daughter through Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) and it would cost Rs 60 lakh and the payments should be made through demand drafts.

"He went to the firm's office and paid Rs 18 lakh. In February, they informed him that his daughter has been allotted a seat at Sridevi Medical College in Tumakuru and asked him to pay Rs 15 lakh, of which he paid Rs 10 lakh in cash. They claimed he would get a confirmation email within a few days but no mail came. When he went to the office to check, it was closed. A few others too have been cheated similarly," the police said.

The victims filed a complaint with the Cubbon Park police last week. "The firm cheated students and parents from Punjab, Tamil Nadu, Jharkhand and Telangana. We have taken up a cheating case and are investigating," the police said, adding the parents should exercise caution and should not fall prey to third parties or agents who promise them medical or engineering seats.

Vijayapura lecturer accuses KPSC driver of taking ₹25 lakh for job

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 38-year-old lecturer from Vijayapura, who was aspiring to become a government employee, was allegedly cheated of Rs 25 lakh by a driver working with the Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC).

Nagappa Rudrappa Bellad filed a complaint with Vidhana Soudha police against Erappa Hondappanavar, stating that he had met the latter at the KPSC office in 2014, when he had taken his wife for an interview. In 2016, he had applied for a Group C post and written the exam, and also informed Hondappanavar. The list of selected candidates was released in 2018, but Bellad was not selected.

"The complainant discussed it with Hondappanavar, who told him that an additional list would be released, and he will try to help him get selected. Hondappanavar contacted Bellad and told him the selection process was on and demanded Rs 50 lakh to get him the job. When Bellad told him he didn't have so much money, Hondappanavar assured him he would get a sub-registrar's post and asked him to pay Rs 25 lakh in instalments. Trusting him, Bellad mortgaged his ancestral property and paid Rs 18 lakh in cash, and transferred Rs 7 lakh to the bank account of Hondappanavar's son, between June 2018 and December 2019," police said.

While no additional list of selected candidates was announced, lenders started forcing Bellad to return the money. When he asked Hondappanavar to return the money, he gave lame reasons and started avoiding him. Bellad also went to KPSC to meet him, but Hondappanavar threatened him with dire consequences if he came to the office. So he lodged a complaint based on which Hondappanavar is booked for cheating, police added.

Akbar acquitted of hate speech cases

Evidence against accused not found; Court warns Owaisi to avoid provocative speeches

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

IN a huge relief to AIMIM leader in Telangana Assembly Akbaruddin Owaisi, the Special Court for the trial of cases against MPs and MLAs at Hyderabad on Wednesday acquitted him in two hate speech cases, registered against him in 2013.

"There is no sufficient evidence to prove the cases against the accused. There is no link between the chain of video evidence related to the alleged provocative speech," K Jayakumar, Special Sessions Judge, said while delivering the verdict. The courtroom was packed on Wednesday but Owaisi's supporters refrained from any celebrations after the verdict.

AIMIM MLA Akbaruddin Owaisi comes out of a special court after he was acquitted in decade-old hate speech case on Wednesday

> There is no link between the chain of video evidence related to the alleged provocative speech
> K Jayakumar, Special Sessions Judge

In both incidents, the cases were registered after a long delay of 25 days and 10 days in Nirmal and Nizamabad respectively. The court also warned Akbaruddin to avoid making provocative speeches in future in the interest of national integrity and also directed him not to hold any celebrations in view of the acquittal. While Akbaruddin was the lone accused in the case related to the speech delivered in Nizamabad, Yahya Khan, was an accused in the case related to the speech delivered in December. Both speeches were delivered in Urdu, during public meetings organised by the AIMIM party in 2012.

After the videos of the speech went viral on the social media platforms, police swung into action and registered suo-moto cases against him in both incidents on January 2, 2013. After a week after registering the FIRs, Akbaruddin was arrested while he was at Gandhi hospital, Secunderabad on January 8, 2013, undergoing treatment.

He was first arrested in the Nirmal case. After over a month, he was released on conditional bail.

A DOUBLE WHAMMY OF HIGH PRICES AND INTEREST RATES

Retail inflation in March saw the highest monthly rattle in 17 months at 6.95%. With this, headline inflation has crossed the RBI's upper tolerance band of 6% for the third straight month, with Q4 FY22 and FY22 averaging 6.34% and 5.5% respectively. Last Friday, the RBI woke up to smell the coffee revising its inflation estimates upwards, as though to avoid getting a bad rap, and issued a dutiful warning that elevated inflation will persist throughout this year. Separately, private estimates peg inflation to exceed 6% for two more quarters, with some projecting monthly inflation prints around 7% at least till September. But all these readings are a day late and dollar short, as the average consumer has been seeing prices rising faster than wages for several quarters now.

What's worrisome is, food inflation, the most volatile component of headline inflation, is making a comeback. As Crisil estimates, the poor bear the highest burden, given that food comprises the largest share of their consumption basket. Last fiscal, low food inflation helped contain the headline number, while fuel and core inflation rose. But now, it's a double whammy with food inflation adding to core inflation. At 7.7% last month, high food prices contributed to the bulk of retail inflation and high frequency prices for April already indicate further increase in prices of cereals, pulses, fruits and vegetables. This at a time when the full impact of high crude oil prices will only be felt from April onwards given that duty hikes started late March. Even if energy prices are contained, inflation will likely pop up elsewhere. The first hint comes from China, whose latest Covid-19-related restrictions in Shanghai, which accounts for about 40% of its GDP, could be a potential source of new supply chain disruptions. Besides, an increase in input prices of agriculture and non-agricultural products could push production costs by 8–10%. So inflation may average 6% this fiscal, well above RBI's forecast of 5.7%, which means households must brace up not just for high prices, but also high interest rates.

END GUV-CM TUSSLE IN TELANGANA

For some time now, a tussle has been going on between Telangana governor Tamilisai Soundararajan and Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao. The last time KCR had called on her was in June. The CM appears to be upset and deeply wounded by the governor's refusal in nominating to the Legislative Council one P Kaushik Reddy who defected to the TRS from the Congress. Then began the incidents of Tamilisai being sidelined—the Assembly budget session began without the customary governor's address, ministers and officials started boycotting her for all the functions held both inside and outside Raj Bhavan, district collectors and SPs too began avoiding receiving her whenever she was on a visit, and recently in the Bhadrachalam Ram temple, only lower-rung officials were sent to attend to her.

However, the face-off between these two leaders is not as nasty as in Maharashtra where Governor BS Koshyari has been sitting tight on the state's recommendations for the nomination of 12 leaders as members of the Council. But there is no guarantee that Telangana would not go the Maharashtra or West Bengal way. After briefing Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah, the governor said that, if she so desired, she could have dismissed the KCR ministry on the pretext that the gap between two Assembly sessions was more than six months. She has been unusually vocal for quite some time—even sharing her outbursts with the media.

The anti-BJP political climate in the state may have given rise to the fissures that had developed but the two leaders who occupy constitutionally created positions should know better. The governor and the CM cannot be at loggerheads. Both the dignitaries are riding high horses, further complicating matters. While holding the Budget session of the Assembly without the governor's address on the pretext that the last session was not prorogued is surely a lame excuse, the governor, on her part, should have refrained from saying that she could dismiss the government at will. It would be prudent for Tamilisai to not take the Koshyari-Jagdeep Dhankhar path in order to appease her bosses while KCR could set an example by giving the governor the respect she deserves.

Economists have pointed out that the current inflation is largely because of supply-side issues. Hence the weapons in RBI's armoury may not be particularly effective

RBI OR CENTRE, WHO CAN TAME INFLATION?

PROSENJIT DATTA

Senior business journalist

SOUMYADIP SINHA

For three years, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) had put economic growth ahead of taming inflation as its priority, despite the consumer price index breaching 6% several times in the past six months. The central bank had reduced interest rates and kept the policy stance accommodative, flooding the market with excessive liquidity.

On Friday, April 8, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said that this would change—inflation would be prioritised over growth and the accommodative stance could be changing. This was despite the fact that RBI had to lower its GDP growth estimate for 2022–23 from 7.8% to 7.2%. And despite the fact that just a couple of weeks earlier, while addressing a CII meet, he had reiterated that the RBI planned to remain focused on growth.

Though the policy rate and stance remained unchanged on Friday what made the RBI governor signal that priorities were changing? And will the RBI succeed in taming inflation any better than its efforts to spur GDP growth?

The answer to the first question is easier than that of the second. The global crisis and the soaring prices of commodities had made inflation difficult to ignore for the central bank. The RBI is now projecting that inflation will be 5.7% for 2022–23; a forecast many think is overly optimistic given the latest inflation numbers that came out yesterday. Earlier, the central bank had projected the full year's GDP growth at 7.8% and inflation at 4.5%. The RBI's medium-term inflation target is set at 4% with a tolerance of plus/ minus 2% on both sides.

The RBI may have also finally realised that the monetary policy's ability to spur GDP growth is limited and the side effects of ultra-low rates are not always benign. Real interest rates have been in the negative territory—hurting savers and helping borrowers—for a very long time now. The ultra-low interest rates and excess liquidity were perhaps needed to counteract the shock of the pandemic and the lockdown, but it had reached the point of diminishing utility. Quarterly GDP growth—after a sharp rebound from a low base—was now beginning to show a more moderate growth trend.

The RBI may have also been conscious of the fact that studies in other countries had pointed out that the effects of low interest rates tend to help richer citizens and bigger companies than they do smaller firms or the poor. Low interest rates tend to disrupt the saver, hurt the poor and the retired disproportionately. And the pandemic had increased the number of poor in the country—many of whom are dependent on the savings they accumulated in better years. Other research has also pointed out that low interest rates could lead to market consolidation and dominance as bigger firms take advantage of them and crowd out smaller firms that cannot get cheap loans.

Indeed, the RBI is probably aware that there are plenty of signs that the same story is playing out in the way the Indian economy is recovering. Even while big corporations are showing higher profits, a large number of small and medium enterprises are struggling to keep their heads over water. And the unemployment situation remains worse than it was in the pre-pandemic days. And in the couple of years preceding the pandemic, the unemployment situation was not particularly good either.

> For targeting the supply-side problems, the government's fiscal policies may be far more effective in tackling the current inflation than anything the RBI can do. The governor may well be hoping that the Centre is as accommodative to the RBI's current priority of taming inflation as the central bank has been in the government's quest for faster growth

And despite the ultra-low interest rates, private consumption remains sluggish and investment in greenfield projects has been anaemic. The latter can perhaps be explained by the fact that RBI's own surveys show that capacity utilisation has remained stubbornly below 80% for years now, thus making it unnecessary to go for capacity creation in most sectors.

Whatever the reason, RBI finally seems to have made up its mind that now consumer price inflation has reached a point it can no longer ignore. How quickly will the RBI act on the inflation front given that the interest rates were not changed this time either though it took a step to reduce liquidity by introducing the standing deposit facility at 3.75%? Several RBI watchers expect graduated steps—with the liquidity normalisation being a multi-year process and the interest rates going up by 50 basis points by the end of the year.

Will this be enough to tame the soaring inflation? Economists have pointed out that the current inflation is largely because of supply-side issues, not demand-led. And therefore the weapons in the RBI's armoury—higher interest rates and tighter liquidity—may not be particularly effective against it. The monetary policy measures work better in demand-led inflation but all statistics point to the fact that demand is yet to recover fully to the pre-pandemic levels.

For targeting the supply-side problems, the government's fiscal policies—cutting taxes on fuel for example or reducing tax rates on some imports—may be far more effective in tackling the current inflation than anything the RBI can do. The governor may well be hoping that the Union government is as accommodative to the RBI's current priority of taming inflation as the central bank has been in the government's quest for faster growth.

INDIA RECOVERS, ALBEIT WITH DISPARITIES

ROHANSHI VAID AMMU GEORGE

Research Assistant and Research Fellow respectively at the Asia Competitiveness Institute, Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore

The battle against Covid-19 took an enormous toll on the Indian economy, unlike anything seen in the country's recent history. Despite a muted first wave in 2020, the national lockdown caused the Indian economy to contract by 7.3%. On the contrary, the economic impact of the large-scale Covid-19 outbreaks in the Delta variant-led second wave was less severe in 2021. The latest quarterly growth estimates published by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation suggest that the Indian economy is on the path to rapid recovery in 2022. Looking at the economic data, particularly for consumption and investment, it does seem that the economy is reviving from the aftershocks of the pandemic. However, a key question remains: Are all states witnessing similar paths to recovery?

A recent study conducted by the Asia Competitiveness Institute examines the sub-national recovery during the past two years focusing on two drivers of economic growth—consumption and investment. The study reveals widespread regional differences in India's recovery post-pandemic. States that performed well during the pandemic are concentrated in the northern, southern, and western regions. However, regional recovery does not guarantee the performance of all states within the region. For example, the western region comprises Gujarat, which rebounded strongly with a surge in FDI flows, while Madhya Pradesh is yet to recover fully.

Investment-led recovery: Since the first wave, the northern region has dominated construction and real estate investments. It received more investment during Covid than in the pre-pandemic period, with Haryana, Delhi, Punjab and Uttar Pradesh bringing in the bulk of the investment. Nitin Gadkari, the Union transport minister, laid the foundation for 11 highway projects in Haryana under the new economic corridor in July 2020 and 16 highway projects in Uttar Pradesh in November 2020. Similarly, for Punjab, the state government approved the construction of 18 road projects comprising 1,000 kilometres of roads in September 2020. In terms of real estate, Birla Estates launched a 47-acre housing project in Gurugram, a major metropolitan city in Haryana. During this period, Ashiana Housing, a realty firm, announced new investments in normal housing and senior living residency projects in the national capital. Delhi witnessed the sharpest recovery in comparison to other states due to the vast inflows of new construction and real estate investments amid the pandemic.

Within southern India, Tamil Nadu and Kerala outperformed their regional peers. Like Delhi, Tamil Nadu also experienced a substantial increase in investment flows to its construction and real estate sector in 2021. The government of Tamil Nadu signed two major deals: building two industrial parks in Chennai and constructing a 20-kilometre six-lane highway from Pondavakkam to Kannigaipair.

Regional disparities: Northeastern states such as Mizoram, Manipur and Nagaland registered a strong recovery in one of the consumption indicators, namely per capita bank credit issuance. This can be attributed to these states being agrarian, and agriculture being designated as a priority sector for lending by the Government of India and the Reserve Bank of India. However, the recovery in one of the consumption indicators was ultimately not enough for them to bounce back fully. These states have not yet returned to the pre-pandemic level of economic activity.

The exceptional cases of Odisha and Jharkhand: The study also finds some outliers in the eastern region. Historically, states in the eastern region performed poorly in terms of their overall competitiveness. However, the post-pandemic economic trends tell a different story. The recovery of Odisha and Jharkhand was comparable to the top-performing states in the western region. Considered the richest in natural resource endowment, both Odisha and Jharkhand attracted significant investments in the metal industry. The governments of both these states have prioritised improving ease of doing business in recent years.

> Historically, states in the eastern region performed poorly in terms of their competitiveness. However, the post-Covid economic trends tell a different story. The recovery of Odisha and Jharkhand was comparable to top-performing states in western India

Pre-Covid times, the western region garnered almost 60% of the FDI inflows to India. This is not surprising given that Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh and Maharashtra, the states that attract the highest FDI, belong to the western region. During the second wave, a re-shuffling of the preferred FDI destinations occurred. FDI inflows to the eastern region were commensurate with that of the western India due to the high inflows to Jharkhand and Odisha.

Odisha attracted very high investments in metals, construction materials, chemicals, food, agro-based products, tourism and transport services. The government of Odisha approved five mega steel projects to achieve its goal of producing 100 million tonnes of steel by 2030, which is more than three times its current production capacity of 30 million tonnes. The other projects include three grain-based ethanol plants, a multi-modal logistics park and two five-star hotel projects. Odisha also witnessed high investment flows in the manufacturing sector.

In the case of Jharkhand, the metals and miscellaneous services industries attracted the largest investments. During the launch of the Jharkhand Industry and Investment Promotion Policy 2021 in August, the state government signed memorandums of understanding with Dalmia Cement and Adhunik Power. The Dalmia group pledged to make an investment worth ₹758 crores in the cement grinding, solar power generation, and municipal waste management sectors. Adhunik power pledged to invest ₹1,900 crores to develop an industrial park. Tata Steel and Steel Authority of India Limited also stated their intent to invest over the coming years through the expansion of mining projects.

Other eastern states did not witness similar recovery patterns like Jharkhand and Orissa. This suggests that the erstwhile top-competitive states continue to perform well, whereas the bottom-competitive states are still suffering from the adverse impact of the pandemic.

Challenges remain: Although broader vaccination coverage and relaxed covid restrictions have brought the economy back to normalcy, challenges remain. The sub-national recovery trends in investments only capture the formal sector. Small firms in the informal sector were hit hard by the pandemic and uncertainty still exists about their post-pandemic revival. Additionally, external shocks such as the oil price surge with Russia's invasion of Ukraine are expected to worsen the already rising unemployment and inflation. As states emerge from the pandemic, governments need to focus on reviving private investment (the long-run engine of growth) to create jobs. Such targeted policy efforts can reduce regional disparities and further accelerate India's recovery in 2022.

A puppet prime minister

The new Pakistan prime minister's reference to Kashmir in his inaugural speech is quite irksome and it smacks of his lack of diplomacy and finesse. This is a clear indication that the incumbent would simply be a puppet in the hands of the ISI and military, and as usual, earn a bad reputation as an inimical premier.

Step up security in subway

Apparently the gun culture in the US has become a nightmare to the innocent citizens of that country. As per reports, New York City alone accounted for more than 290 shooting incidents since January 2022, which means that the security of common people is at stake every moment. There is an urgent need for the US authorities to step up security measures at all levels in order to save precious lives. The culprit in the present case executed the job all alone and escaped from the subway with ease. Also, it is all the more important to ascertain as to how this man managed to smuggle so much arms and ammunition into a subway car without being detected.

Gun culture a nightmare

This is with reference to 10 shot at, 6 injured in New York substation shooting (April 13). The US claims itself as an advanced country. However, it is now reeling under the impact of liberal gun laws, making citizens insecure and vulnerable about which the administration is pathetically helpless as repeated incidents of shootouts occur at busy subways, schools and malls.

Are we civilised?

This is with reference to At this mental hospital, patients live like prisoners, in filth (April 13). It is heart wrenching to read about the condition in which violent mentally-ill inmates at the Government Mental Health Centre at Peroorkada, Thiruvananthapuram, are living. Perhaps violent psychiatric patients are conveniently dumped in this place by their family to get rid of them. The situation must change, or else, what is the point in calling ourselves civilised?

Paying the price

This is with reference to CBI given go ahead to prosecute Aakar Patel (April 13). An acerbic critic of the Modi administration, journalist Aakar Patel, ex-chief of Amnesty International India is paying the price for speaking truth to power in his latest book Price of the Modi years. The intrepid journalist can now kiss goodbye to his lecture tours in the US as he will certainly not be permitted to travel. There is little doubt that he would have caused irreparable damage to the PM and his government at the international level and this perhaps could be the principal reason why he has been targeted.

5 AIIMS functioning sans full-time heads

Faculty posts also lying vacant; functioning hampered

ANKITA UPHADYAY @ New Delhi

FIVE centres of All-India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) — Patna, Bhopal, Rishikesh, Bhubaneswar and Guwahati — do not have a full-time director, besides a number of vacancies for other posts, which has paralysed the functioning of these institutes.

Major decisions have come to a halt while the directors of other centres have been given additional charge of these five institutes, burdening them with the responsibility to run two facilities at the same time.

Dr Nitin M. Nagarkar, director of AIIMS-Raipur, has been given additional charge of AIIMS-Bhopal as the appointment of a full-time director there has been pending since November 2021. The appointment of deputy director and financial advisor at AIIMS-Bhopal is also pending.

According to former AIIMS-Bhopal director Dr Sarman Singh, who served from June 4, 2018 to November 8, 2021, and also had the additional charge of Bibinagar (Telangana) AIIMS, presiding over two institutes is a challenging task which hampers policy decisions and other governing issues of the institute.

Dr S Ramji, executive director of AIIMS-Kalyani (West Bengal) was entrusted with the additional charge of AIIMS-Guwahati as director in February this year.

This newspaper contacted officials in Union health ministry, but there were no comments despite repeated attempts.

A parliamentary committee panel had also expressed concern over shortage of staff at six AIIMS — Bhopal, Bhubaneswar, Jodhpur, Patna, Raipur and Rishikesh.

Burdened with double charge

Dr Saurabh Varshney, Executive Director of AIIMS-Deoghar, is holding additional charge of Patna-AIIMS.

KV admissions under MP quota put on hold

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN a significant move, the Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan (KVS) has put on hold admissions under special provisions, which includes admission through the MP quota.

"As per the directions of KVS headquarters, New Delhi, you are hereby informed that no admissions should be done under Special Provisions till further orders," the KVS said in its April 12 letter to all its schools. Under the special provision, the MPs have discretionary power to recommend 10 children for admission in a KVS.

According to a KVS official, who didn't want to be identified, the admissions to the general category are going on at present, and entries under special provisions have been "put on hold" for the time being. "The decision to admit students through special provisions has been put under hold until further order," he said, adding that there are 15-16 special provisions under which admissions to KV schools are made. "It is being discussed. We can't say it has been put on hold permanently," the official added.

Senior BJP leader Sushil Kumar Modi, who raised the issue in Parliament and demanded that the 7,880 MP quota seats in KVS be scrapped, welcomed the move.

India invited to G7 summit, report of snub unfounded

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

CONTRARY to reports that Germany would not invite India in the G7 Summit, sources in the MEA denied saying that not just India, but even South Africa, Senegal and Indonesia are likely to be invited for the summit.

This will be India's fourth consecutive invitation to G7 since 2019.

India debuted in the event after invitation by France as a goodwill partner in 2019, followed by the US invitation in 2020 (which got cancelled due to the pandemic). The UK too had sent an invitation but PM Narendra Modi attended the summit virtually due to the pandemic.

The reports of India being dropped from the marquee event had led to intense speculation back at home earlier. "The summit is more than two months away, and we can't seem to figure out what triggered this debate," said the sources.

The event will be held from June 26 to June 28 at Schloss Elmau in the Bavarian Alps

The world has been under pressure to take a tough stand on Russia amidst the conflict in Ukraine. India has been maintaining that this can be achieved through dialogue between Russia and Ukraine. "I have repeatedly asked the Presidents of Russia and Ukraine to speak directly to each other and seek a resolution through a dialogue," PM Modi had said recently, while virtually interacting with US President Joe Biden prior to the 2+2 ministerial summit.

PM Modi is expected to meet German Chancellor Olaf Scholz next month for the 6th Indo German Inter Governmental Consultations (IGC) that are held every two years. Former German Chancellor Angela Markel had visited India for the IGC in 2019.

Meanwhile, Germany has been facing the heat from Ukraine. German President Frank-Walter Steinmeier has said he offered to visit Ukraine with other EU leaders, but Kyiv had told him that he was not welcome. Recently, the Ukrainian ambassador had accused Germany of half-hearted support for Kyiv and said his country had become a victim of Germany's "shameful" energy dependence on Russia.

SC seeks hate speech report from U'khand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday directed the Uttarakhand government to file a status report regarding the probe into the alleged hate speech at Dharam Sansad held in December 2021.

The court was informed by the state government that it registered four FIRs in connection with the case. Three charge sheets have also been filed in the matter, the Uttarakhand government said.

Appearing for petitioners Qurban Ali and Anjana Prakash, senior advocate Kapil Sibal informed the SC that the matter needs to be heard soon as another such event is scheduled on Sunday in Himachal Pradesh.

The petitioners have filed an application to make Himachal Pradesh a party to the case. The SC bench headed by Justice AM Khanwilkar allowed the petitioners to inform the collector and superintendent of police of the area about the event.

The petition urged the court to ensure that an independent, credible and impartial investigation was conducted by an SIT or any appropriate agency to probe the hate speeches against the Muslims who were targeted in Haridwar and Delhi

In their plea, Ali and Prakash submitted that the alleged hate speeches consisted of open calls for genocide of Muslims. "It is pertinent to note that the said speeches are not mere hate speeches but amount to an open call for murder of an entire community. The said speeches thus, pose a grave threat not just to the unity and integrity of our country but also endanger the lives of millions of Muslim citizens," they said.

The next date of hearing is on April 22.

Nawab Malik contests arrest in PMLA case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday agreed to list the special leave petition filed by Maharashtra Minister and NCP leader Nawab Malik challenging his arrest by the Enforcement Directorate under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA).

Senior advocate Kapil Sibal mentioned the case before the bench headed by Chief Justice NV Ramana. "The Act (PMLA) came into place in 2005 while the transaction is prior to 2000. A transaction from 22 years ago is sought to proceed," he contended.

The probe agency had arrested Malik on February 23 over a land deal concerning an aide of underworld don Dawood Ibrahim. The case was filed after studying a February FIR of the NIA that booked Ibrahim and other members of his dreaded gang like Anees Ibrahim, Chhota Shakeel, Javed Chikna and Tiger Memon.

The NCP minister has been under custody ever since his arrest, with the Mumbai special court extending his remand from time to time. Malik's special leave petition challenged the Bombay HC decision to not grant him interim release.

On Wednesday, the ED said it has attached multiple assets of jailed Malik under the anti-money laundering law in the high-prfile case against Dawood and his underworld gang. The attached properties include Goawala compound and a commercial unit in Mumbai's suburban Kurla (West), a 147.79 acre agricultural land located in Osmanabad district of Maharashtra, three flats in Kurla (West) and two residential flats in Bandra (West), the investigative agency said in a statement.

Samajwadi Party to lose LoP post in UP Council

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

AFTER drawing a blank in the just-concluded Legislative Council elections in Uttar Pradesh, the Samajwadi Party is facing the likelihood of losing the post of Leader of the Opposition (LoP) in the Upper House.

After May 28 the number of SP MLCs will come down to 11 from the present 17 as six of its sitting members will be retiring after completion of their terms. On April 28, three SP MLCs — Balwant Singh Ramuwalia, Wasim Barelvi and Madhukar Jaitley — will complete their tenure. This will be followed by the retirement of three more SP MLCs — Rajpal Kashyap, Arvind Kumar and Sanjay Lather — on May 26. Lather is the current Leader of the Opposition.

The Leader of the Opposition is assigned to a member from the largest opposition party in the House, but the party needs to have at least 10 per cent seats of the total strength of the House.

On these six seats, the BJP will most likely get its candidates nominated. On July 6, half a dozen of the 11 remaining SP members will retire. Those who term ends in July are Jagjeevan Prasad, Kamlesh Kumar Pathak, Ranvijay Singh, Shatrudh Prakash (now in BJP), Balram Yadav and Ran Sunder Das Nishad. In such a scenario, the SP will be left with just five members — Naresh Uttam Patel, Rajendra Chaudhury, Ashutosh Sinha, Dr Maan Singh Yadav, and Lal Bihari Yadav.

In all, 13 seats of the Assembly quota will be vacated in July and the election to those seats is likely to be held soon. For each seat, votes of 31 MLAs are required. SP and its allies have 125 members in the Assembly. As per its strength, SP can win maximum four seats and its tally will go up to nine.

Similarly, the BSP, which has four members, will be left with just one seat while the Congress will not be there at all. Moreover, three seats which got vacated last year will in all probability be filled by the BJP. Thus, the ruling party is likely to touch the figure of 80 in the Council by July.

Delhi MPs get attention from Modi

In his interaction with the seven MPs from Delhi, the PM is said to have suggested them to be more active on the social media. Incidentally, Delhi will have see the crucial civic elections soon for which the party is already on electoral mode. The AAP, too, has upped its social media campaign in the run-up to the polls

Be active on social media to counter AAP: PM to MPs

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE BJP brass has advised all its MPs and top leaders, including the cabinet ministers, to proactively counter the claims of AAP and other opposition parties on issues of public interest such as inflation, unemployment and fuel price rise.

BJP insiders said that the MPs of Delhi, Odisha, Uttarakhand and Haryana in a recent breakfast meeting with PM Narendra Modi were asked to enhance their visibility on social media and to highlight the government achievements on development fronts for 'exposing' the opposition.

While the BJP leadership may openly not consider the AAP as a threat, it is keeping a close watch on the party especially after the electoral win in Punjab.

At the same time, the BJP insiders said, the social media presence of almost all BJP leaders, including the MPs, is constantly being reviewed at the top level to assess how they highlight the government works.

Some Delhi MPs, in particular, were asked by the PM to increase their presence on social media, the source said. "You can notice that how the MPs and other top BJP leaders have gone on an overdrive in tweeting and exposing the AAP."

West Delhi MP Parvesh Sahib Singh tweeted a video 'exposing' the condition of government schools, the source said.

"The AAP's attempts to make its presence felt beyond Punjab and Delhi have to be exposed by highlighting its faulty policies and governance through social media platforms," a senior BJP leader said, conceding that BJP MPs and other leaders were becoming active after the nudge from the top echelons.

"As AAP is working hard in Gujarat and Himachal, the BJP has started working on strategies to prevent the AAP from making headway in the two states," another leader said.

IMF lauded PM's free food grain aid to the poor during pandemic: Goyal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE free ration distribution scheme, started by PM Narendra Modi, has set an example of good governance in tackling a global crisis like the pandemic, claimed Union Minister Piyush Goyal.

"Around 80 crore people are being given free 5kg foodgrains in monthly quota of rations since 2020 by the government. After assessing the entire situation of India, the IMF has lauded this scheme and admitted that it has made a huge impact in India during the Covid crisis," Goyal told the media at the BJP headquarters on Wednesday.

Sharing details of the ambitious scheme, he said the government has spent more that ₹3.4 lakh crore under the Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojna. "Around 1000 lakh metric tonnes of food grains have been distributed so far among the poor beneficiaries," he said, adding that the scheme came in for appreciation at the international level.

Union Minister Piyush Goyal briefs the media in Delhi on Wednesday | PTI

After assessing the entire situation of India, the IMF has lauded this scheme and admitted that it has made a huge impact in India during the Covid crisis —Piyush Goyal, Union minister

The scheme was introduced as a Covid relief measure in April 2020. Incidentally, the Centre has extended the free food grain programme for six months till September to provide relief to the poor who were badly affected by the Covid pandemic.

Modi has underlined his sensitivity to the poor and his commitment to the welfare of the weaker sections of society as the programme has ensured that no household lacked in food during the pandemic for over two years, Goyal said.

To a question about price rise, especially in the food items, he said global reasons have pushed up inflation everywhere. Costlier food items pushed the retail inflation to a 17-month high of 6.95 per cent in March.

Exodus of Kashmiri Pandits after atrocities in Valley, says US report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CLOSE on the heels of US Secretary of State Anthony Blinken saying that his country was monitoring the rise of human rights abuse in India, the US has released a report that touches upon a wide range of issues ranging from the exodus of Kashmiri Pandits to freedom of expression.

The atrocities faced by the Kashmiri Pandits are mentioned under the section of 'conflict-related abuses' in the report. "Tens of thousands of Hindus, known as Kashmiri Pandits, fled the Kashmir Valley after 1990 because of violent intimidation that included murders, destruction of temples, and rapes by Kashmiri Muslim residents," it said, adding that there were approximately 65,000 registered Kashmiri migrant families across India.

In its report, the US State Department quoted data placed by the Indian government regarding the efforts made to bring back Kashmiri Pandits to the Valley. "In March, 2021, the Ministry of Home Affairs informed parliament that 3,800 Kashmiri Pandit migrants had returned to J&K since the 1990s."

In other sections, the report said that independent media were active and generally expressed a wide variety of views. At the same time, it mentioned that there were instances in which government officials at both the local and national levels were involved in intimidating media. "NGOs alleged criminal prosecutions and investigations were used to intimidate journalists critical of the government."

It also spoke about the excesses of terrorists as well as police in India. "Terrorists in Jammu and Kashmir, northeastern states, and Maoist terrorism-affected areas committed serious abuses, including killings and torture of armed forces personnel, police, government officials, and civilians, kidnapping, and recruitment and use of child soldiers," the report said.

"Reports of prisoners or detainees who were killed or died in police and judicial custody continued. In March, the National Campaign Against Torture reported the deaths of 111 persons in police custody in 2020. The report stated 82 of the deaths were due to alleged torture or foul play."

Punjab wheat grain shrivels up due to rising heat, Centre sends teams

Five Central teams collect samples for lab testing; farmers facing losses, seek compensation

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

PARMINDER Singh, who owns about 30 acres of land at Palmajra village near Samrala in Punjab, is staring at a major financial loss as the yield of wheat per acre has decreased by three to eight quintals this year due to sudden rise in temperatures.

Gurpreet Singh Sahabana, who has 15 acres of land near Ludhiana, and Kiran Pal Singh Sodhi, who owns around 60 acres near Zira, are also facing a similar situation. All of them want compensation from the government as they are facing losses because of shrivelled wheat grains due to early onset of heat wave.

On Wednesday, five Central government teams reached Punjab and took samples from grain markets across the state to assess the problem of shrivelled wheat grains.

The samples were sent to different laboratories for testing. The teams are likely to submit their reports on Thursday, based on which a decision on granting relaxation in the specifications for wheat procurement could be taken.

The yield of wheat in Punjab, which is known as the 'food bowl of India' is expected to be less this season due to the sudden rise in temperature.

The state government has claimed that the grain has shrivelled by 10 to 20 per cent. The Centre allows only six per cent of shrivelled grains in its wheat procurement.

The state cabinet on Wednesday appeal to the Union government to relax procurement norms without any value cut since the farmers are already suffering on account of lower yields.

The prevalence of hot and dry winds during the development retard the growth of the grain and it gets shrivelled, which in turn leads to a decline in the yield.

Waterlogging due to rains in December and lack of timely availability of DAP and urea are the other reasons for poor yield this year.

According to government sources, wheat was sown on 35 lakh hectares across Punjab this season and the expected yield is 1,800 kg while in 2020-21, it was sown on 35.30 lakh hectares and the yield was 1,940 kg per acre.

"Till first week of March, the weather was fine and then suddenly temperatures rose when it was the seed filling stage. Due to the heat, the grain shrivels and weight drops. The yield is likely to drop by 200-300 kg per acre," said agriculture expert Davinder Sharma.

Law amended for rural fund

The AAP government has amended the Punjab Rural Development Act, 1987, so that the state can claim rural development fund from the Centre for paddy procurement. The Central government had in 2020 mandated the states to make amendments in their laws and specify the RDF usage to claim the fund. The move was aimed at preventing diversion of funds for purposes other than development work in rural areas. The state cabinet approved the Punjab Rural Development (Amendment) Ordinance, 2022, on Wednesday. Last year, the state government had assured the Centre on bringing amendments in law to specify the RDF usage.

NO PERMANENT MEDICAL BAIL TO VARA VARA: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

THE Bombay High Court on Wednesday rejected the plea for permanent medical bail by poet and activist Varavara Rao in the Bhima Koregaon–Elgar Parishad case.

A division bench of Justices SB Shukre and GA Sanap, however, extended Rao's temporary medical bail for another three months to enable him undergo a cataract surgery. Rao will have to surrender before the Taloja prison authorities at the end the bail term.

The HC also dismissed the 83-year-old poet's plea seeking permission to stay in Hyderabad, due to financial reasons, while on medical bail.

Finding substance in the arguments by Rao's counsel Anand Grover regarding lack of medical facilities at Taloja prison and the poor hygiene conditions there, the HC has directed the Maharashtra IG (prisons) to submit a report on the facilities at all prisons across the state and "Taloja prison in particular".

While calling for the report from the IG by April 30, the HC said: "The IG must ensure that henceforth, there remain no grounds for inmates to raise grievances on health facilities in prisons across the state."

In addition, the NIA special court has been directed to conduct the proceedings on a day-to-day basis.

Rao, who has been out on temporary medical bail since February 2021, had filed three pleas. One sought the extension of his medical bail by another six months, the second application sought modification of his temporary medical bail conditions wherein he had sought permission to stay in his hometown Hyderabad while out on bail. His third application had sought permanent bail on health grounds.

Grover had said that Rao, who has early signs of Parkinson's disease, was living in Bandra, Mumbai, at a facility rented out to him by some missionaries.

Stone-hit teenager battling for life; MP govt to bear treatment cost

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

WOMEN in Zamindar Mohalla locality of communal violence-hit Khargone town of Madhya Pradesh are holding special prayers daily for a 16-year-old boy Shivam Shukla, who is battling for life at an Indore hospital, after being injured in the violence.

Shivam was about to leave on April 11 for his native Dhar district to attend the marriage of his elder sister Kritika, but the attack by rioters on April 10, resulting in severe brain injuries, ended him up at a private hospital in Indore.

While women are praying for his safety at their homes and nearby temples in the curfew-clamped Khargone, some residents of Khargone as well as Indore have collected around ₹2 lakh for the treatment.

After being on ventilator support for more than two days, Shivam started showing signs of recovery on Wednesday and is now on external oxygen support.

A native of Nisarpur village in neighbouring Dhar district, Shivam has been living with his maternal uncle's family in Zamindar Mohalla for the last five years and had taken admission to a diploma course in government polytechnic after completing matriculation last year in Khargone. With his maternal uncle's family being the priests of the famous Hinglaj Mata Temple in Khargone town, Shivam along with cousins performed the special Ram Navami arti at the temple and was returning home, when he sustained head injuries in stone-throwing from neighbouring Khaskhas Wadi locality.

"He fell unconscious and was rushed to Khargone district hospital, from where doctors referred him to Indore," Shivam's cousin Manthan Joshi said.

According to Indore Divisional Commissioner Dr Pawan Verma, the MP CM has announced that the government will bear the entire expenses for Shivam's treatment.

'House for sale' on walls in worst-hit Khargone locality

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

AFTER communal riots caused wide-spread damages in Khargone town of Madhya Pradesh, several Hindu families in the Sanjay Nagar locality, one of the worst-hit areas, have written 'Ye Makaan Bikau Hai (this house is for sale)' outside their houses.

One such house owner Rakesh Kale lamented that they have been targets of communal riots at least four times since 1992. "Every time we rebuild our lives after losing properties in communal violence, another riot happens and we end up becoming the first target. This time again, the rioters from adjoining areas stormed into my house and tried to set it ablaze," Kale said on Wednesday.

The daily wage labourer's wife, Kamini, while echoing her husband's sentiments, said not only their family but other Hindu families (20-25 Hindu families reside in the locality) also were eager to sell their houses and leave.

While Kale said he had written 'house on sale' on the wall of his house, Khargone District Collecter Anugraha P claimed that it was the handiwork of "outsiders".

Just a few houses away, Preeti Chandole showed what the rioters did to their house on April 10. "While I was helping my brother in agriculture field, my mother and little nephew were alone in the house. Both of them fled the house, after which the rioters set ablaze the property inside. This is the third time the house has been attacked and burnt in the last few years. We don't have any other option, but sell the house," Preeti said.

Gujarat violence pre-planned: Cops

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

THE communal violence during Ram Navmi procession in Gujarat's Khambhat town on Sunday was a "pre-planned conspiracy", police said.

Six persons, including mastermind Maulvi Mustaqim, were involved in hatching a conspiracy to target the religious event so as to send out a message to the Hindu community not to take out any such processions in future, police claimed.

The interrogation of the arrested persons and scrutiny of their mobile phone data, including deleted chats and call recordings, revealed they hatched the conspiracy soon after the Ram Navmi procession got police permission, said Ajit Rajiyan, SP of Anand district.

"Maulvi Razzaq Hussain, Majid, Jamshed Khan Pathan, Maulvi Mustaqim, Mahmud Saeed and Matin Younis Vora have been arrested and an SIT has been formed at district level to further investigate the incident," said the SP.

These persons lured 'outsiders' to throw stones on the procession by promising money and also legal help, if they got caught by authorities.

"The conspirators were also in touch with people from outside the district and abroad for funds to carry out the attack. The responsibility of raising funds was handed over to Matin. An investigation is underway to find out as to who helped them," said Rajiyan.

Jharkhand officials probe 'sleeper cells'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Ranchi

THREE days after communal clashes erupted during the Ram Navami processions in Lohardaga district of Jharkhand, the district administration on Wednesday claimed that the violence was backed by some "outside forces".

During the preliminary investigation conducted by the district administration, it was found that the incident was "not merely a clash between two communities", but probably was provoked by the "sleeper cells backed by terrorist organisations".

"Though, the investigation is still on, it seems that the violence was possibly backed by some outside forces. It was not just a clash between two communities, but was probably motivated by somebody from outside," said Lohardaga Sub-Divisional Officer Arvind Kumar Lal. He, however, refused to divulge further details saying that the investigations were still on.

Lohardaga Deputy Commissioner also said that it would be improper to say anything at this point of time as the investigations were still on.

Internet services remain cut-off in the riot-hit areas.

Data on liquor throws light on consumers

If the latest report by the National Family Health Survey—5 is to be believed, it's not merely men but the women, too, consume alcohol heavily in Chhattisgarh. Another interesting revelation that came through the survey was that even though 18 per cent alcoholic men in the state quit drinking, the number of women taking liquor had increased by 5%. The women in Chhattisgarh are at number three position in the country after Arunachal Pradesh and Jharkhand when it comes to drinking. Besides, 17.3 per cent women in the state are addicted to tobacco. The ruling Congress ahead of the 2018 Assembly polls promised liquor ban in the state, but nothing concrete has emerged so far.

One man's extraordinary courage saves 11 from stranded trolleys

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

The ropeway tragedy at Trikut Hills in Deoghar would have been much worse if a local person hadn't shown extraordinary courage and rescued 11 people from the stranded ropeway trolleys.

Pann Panjiyay alias Pannalal, who works as a fitter with the Damodar Ropeway and Infra, which operated the ropeway, climbed the ropeway towers and reached to the trolleys to rescue the stranded people. He tied the stranded people with ropes and let them slide down slowly with the help of a pulley.

Stating that he could not stop himself from helping the people stranded midair on the ropeway as he has been "feeding his family and educating children by the money earned from it (ropeway)".

"I told others present there to start rescuing the tourists first. With the help of locals, I vacated around five-six trolleys hanging midair on lower altitude," said Panna Lal.

He also helped the rescue team to reach out to the stranded trolleys and rescue the remaining people.

"Initially, people were not ready to do anything, but when I climbed up on the trolley, then others also joined me and started rescuing the people," said Panna Lal. The ropeway operator rewarded him with a cheque of ₹1 lakh.

Chief Minister Hemant Soren felicitated him on Wednesday and said the bravery shown by Panna Lal was really commendable and he felt proud of him.

"The state government will also apprise the Central government about the bravery of Panna Lal," said the CM.

Meanwhile, experts who conducted an audit on the Deoghar ropeway said that the ropeway was "fine" when a safety audit was done last month.

BIDEN ACCUSES PUTIN OF GENOCIDE IN UKRAINE

US president's accusation comes as Moscow appears to be readying a massive offensive across Ukraine's eastern Donbas region

KRAMATORSK

US PRESIDENT Joe Biden accused Vladimir Putin of committing genocide against civilians in Ukraine, as Kyiv halted humanitarian corridors in several parts of the country on Wednesday deemed "too dangerous" for evacuations.

Biden's accusation came as Moscow — already accused by the West of widespread atrocities against civilians — appears to be readying a massive offensive across Ukraine's eastern Donbas region that Washington warned might involve chemical weapons.

In Mariupol, where strikes continued to pummel the battered city, more than 1,000 Ukrainian soldiers have surrendered, Russia's defence ministry said Wednesday. Ukraine did not confirmed the claim.

Following its pullback from areas north of Ukraine's capital, Kyiv, Russia is refocusing its efforts eastward, the new frontline of the nearly seven-week war. It appears aimed at capturing more territory in Donbas, where Russian-backed separatists control the Donetsk and Lugansk regions, to create a solid southern corridor to occupied Crimea.

Ukrainian authorities have been urging people to flee west in advance of the expected Russian offensive but on Wednesday, all humanitarian corridors were halted, Deputy Prime Minister Iryna Vereshchuk said. In the past 24 hours, seven civilians were killed by Russian shelling in the northeastern Kharkiv region, said rgional governor Oleg Synegubov on social media. Biden's charge of genocide was the strongest accusation yet from Washington against Putin, yet one that Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy has repeatedly levelled.

"Yes, I called it genocide," said Biden, defending his use of the term Tuesday during a speech, while saying he'd let lawyers decide "whether or not it qualifies" as such. "It's become clearer and clearer that Putin is just trying to wipe out the idea of even being able to be a Ukrainian."

"We're here because we have reasonable grounds to believe that crimes within the jurisdiction of the court are being committed. We have to pierce the fog of war to get to the truth," he told reporters. AFP

Ukraine is 'crime scene', says int'l criminal court

Bucha: War crimes prosecutors visiting the site of civilian killings called Ukraine a "crime scene" Wednesday, as tens of thousands of Ukrainians fled their country in advance of a fresh assault to the east. The visit by the International Criminal Court's chief prosecutor to Bucha came as the new front of the war shifts eastward. The Hague-based court investigates and prosecutes war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide. AFP

Kremlin: Biden's claims unacceptable

Moscow: The Kremlin on Wednesday said it was "unacceptable" for US President Joe Biden to accuse Moscow's troops of committing genocide in Ukraine. "We categorically disagree and consider unacceptable any attempt to distort the situation in this way, especially since it is hardly acceptable for the president of the United States," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters. He added that the United States is a "country that has committed well-known deeds in modern and recent history". AFP

Sri Lanka welcomes New Year sans festive cheers

AS THE country heralds its Sinhala-Hindu New Year on April 14, there is no sense of festivity anywhere, with people continuing to queue up for food and fuel.

"This government has ensured that that there is only poverty, not prosperity," said Seetha Alahakoon (56), a school teacher from the central district of Kandy.

For her, it is a question of keeping her home fires burning. "The government will soon announce further austerity measures. This is Sri Lanka's Great Depression," she said.

Meanwhile at Colombo's main protest venue, agitators have planned to herald the New Year as the 'Sri Lankan community' and to renew the call for Rajapaksas' ouster at the auspicious hour.

"If the government thinks that we will tire of this effort and return home, that's a mistake. We will return home only when they announce their resignations, and not a day before," said Pasan Alles (25), a youth protester.

Sri Lanka asks expats to send cash home

Colombo: SRI LANKA urged its expatriates to send home money to help pay for desperately needed food and fuel on Wednesday after announcing a default on its $51 billion foreign debt. The island nation is in the grip of its worst economic crisis since independence in 1948, with severe shortages of essential goods and regular blackouts causing widespread hardship. Authorities are weathering intense public anger and spirited protests demanding the government's resignation ahead of negotiations for an International Monetary Fund bailout. Central bank governor Nandalal Weerasinghe said he needed Sri Lankans abroad to "support the country at this crucial juncture by donating much needed foreign exchange". AFP

Death toll in South Africa's deadliest flood touches 259; more feared missing

DURBAN

DEVASTATING floods killed 259 in and around the South African city of Durban, a senior government official said Wednesday, after hillsides were washed away, homes collapsed, and more people were still feared missing.

The heaviest rains in 60 years pummelled Durban's municipality, known as eThekwini. According to an AFP tally, the storm is the deadliest on record in South Africa.

"At the moment the confirmed figures of people that have perished during this disaster is 259, across the KwaZulu-Natal (KZN) province," Nonala Ndlovu, spokeswoman for the provincial disaster management department told AFP.

President Cyril Ramaphosa has described the floods as a "catastrophe" and a "calamity". "Bridges have collapsed. Roads have collapsed. People have died," he said.

"This is a catastrophe of enormous proportions," he said, addressing a local community after inspecting the damage from the floods that have claimed 259 lives.

The search for missing persons is still going on, said Ramaphosa, promising to "spare nothing" in dealing with the disaster. "This disaster is part of climate change. We no longer can postpone what we need to do... to deal with climate change. "It is here, and our disaster management capability needs to be at a higher level," said the president.

The United Methodist Church in the township of Clermont was reduced to a pile of rubble. Four children from a local family died when a wall collapsed on them.

Other homes hung precariously to the hillside, miraculously still intact after much of the ground underneath them washed away in mudslides. AFP

Philippines flood toll rises to 80

Abuyog: The death toll from landslides in the Philippines rose to 80 on Wednesday with scores missing and feared dead, officials said, as rescuers dug up more bodies with bare hands and backhoes in crushed villages. Most of the deaths from storm Megi — the strongest to hit the archipelago this year — were in the province of Leyte, where a series of landslides devastated villages. Twenty-six people died in Pilar, which is part of Abuyog municipality, after a torrent of mud and earth on Tuesday pushed houses into the sea and buried most of the settlement. AFP

Saudi TV ridicules Biden in rare dig

Riyadh: A prominent Saudi TV network has racked up millions of views with a comedy sketch that openly mocks US President Joe Biden, an unusual move that further signals souring ties. The sketch aired this week by MBC shows Biden, played by comedian Khaled Al-Faraj, falling asleep at a podium twice in under a minute while straining to deliver a "stern message" to Russian President Vladimir Putin concerning the war in Ukraine. As of Wednesday, the clip had been viewed seven million times on Twitter alone. AFP

QUARTERLY RESULT

Infosys reports 12% rise in Q4 net profit

Projects growth of 13-15% for FY23; board approves final dividend of ₹16 per share

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

Salil Parekh

THE country's second largest IT services firm Infosys on Wednesday posted a 12% Y-o-Y rise in its Q4 net profit at ₹5,686 crore, from ₹5,076 crore in a year-ago period.

The company's revenue for the March quarter increased 22.7% to ₹32,276 crore from ₹26,311 crore in the same quarter last year. For FY22, it recorded the fastest growth in a decade with revenues of ₹1,21,641 crore, an increase of 21.1% compared to the previous year. Its revenue was ₹1,00,472 in FY21. Differentiated cloud services and large deal momentum drove the IT firm's highest annual growth.

Analysts and brokerage firms had predicted that the Bengaluru-based IT major might report double-digit growth. They also expected the IT firm to retain its margin guidance in the 22-24% band. Infosys projected revenue growth guidance of 13-15% and operating margin guidance of 21-23% for FY23.

"We continue to gain market share as a result of sustained clients' confidence in our ability to successfully navigate their digital journeys," said Salil Parekh, CEO and MD of Infosys.

He also added that they will scale talent globally, invest in employees and accelerate innovation and digital capabilities to capitalise on the expanding market opportunity.

The company's operating margin for the fourth quarter stood at 21.5%, a decline of 3% Y-o-Y, and for FY22 it was 23%, a decline of 1.5% Y-o-Y. Its digital revenues stood at 57% of total revenues for the year ended March 31, 2022.

"With a robust demand environment ahead, we envisage making appropriate long-term investments in capability building across sales, delivery and innovation. However, we plan to neutralize some of the impact through aggressive cost optimisation programs and value led pricing driven by service and brand differentiation," said Nilanjan Roy, CFO, Infosys. The firm said it won $2.3 bn in total contract value (TCV) for the fourth quarter, and $9.5 bn in FY22. The Board has approved a final dividend of Rs 16 per share, taking the total dividend for FY22 to Rs 31 per share, an increase of 14.8% over prior year.

Infosys is 'transitioning' out of Russian market

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

IT giant Infosys, which has less than 100 employees in Russia, on Wednesday said it was transitioning out of the Russian market. This move comes against the backdrop of the Ukraine-Russia conflict. Infosys said that they are not working for any Russian client, and has no plans to work for Russian clients in future.

"Infosys as a company very much would like to see the two sides (Russia and Ukraine) come together and come to some agreement on peace...we have started transitioning all of our work in Russia to centres outside Russia. We work with no Russian clients. This stage, we have no impact within our business from an Infosys perspective," Salil Parekh, CEO of Infosys, said in a press conference. For IT companies, the US, UK and Europe are the largest markets and the firms have been expanding their presence in Eastern Europe.

Apart from Russia, Infosys has a presence in Hungary, Lithuania and Slovakia. Infosys might move its work from Russia to other eastern European countries. Parekh also said that they would be providing assistance for reskilling individuals that are displaced.

When asked about travails being faced by Akshata Murthy, daughter of Infosys co-founder Narayana Murthy, Parekh said he could not comment on individual shareholders.

Akshata Murthy and her husband Rishi Sunak have been facing a raging controversy over tax status in the UK.

India achieves export target for FY22

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

INDIA has achieved the export target of more than $419 billion for the financial year ending March 2022 against the target of $400 billion, Commerce Minister Piyush Goyal said Wednesday. In addition, he said that the actual exports also surpassed the target of $200 bln, as per the provisionals numbers.

"We had set a target of 200 bln dollars for the services sector..Till March 31, we have achieved a target of 240 bln dollar in the services target. It happened when the tourism and aviation sectors were closed. This is a big achievement for India," Goyal said.

"There are lot of employment opportunities in the sectors like textile, pharmaceutical industry, gem and jewellery etc. The trade deal with Australia will help in creating about 10 lakh jobs. Agreements with UAE would also create another 10 lakh jobs," Goyal added.

Responding to a media query related to import of sunflower oil amid Russia-Ukraine crisis, Goyal said the Government is exploring alternate ways to fulfil the country's need. He added that India's export to Russia and Ukraine is insignificant.

According to Goyal , India's service basket is increasing with time. In last two years, services sector is moving up the value chain, he stated.

Meanwhile, Goyal also denied the reports of Rupee-Rouble trade deal. As per the Commerce Ministry official, the Government is only facilitating payment to the exporters who have sold to Russia. They are in talks to facilitate payment for exporters via non-sanctioned banks.

FM reviews NMP, scheme crosses target

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FINANCE Minsiter Nirmala Sitharaman did a review of National Monetisation Pipeline (NMP) with top officials of the Finace Ministry and NITI Ayog in North block on Wednesday. NMP has shown remarkable progress during its first year of rollout, crossing the target, set at ₹88,000 cr for fiancial year 2021-22, Amitabh Kant, chief executive officer of Niti Aayog tweeted.

"A comprehensive review of National Monetisation Pipeline (NMP) was undertaken by FM Sitharaman today. NMP has shown remarkable progress during its 1st year of implementation by crossing the target of Rs 88000 Cr set for FY 21-22," Kant tweeted.

The government has completed transactions worth ₹96,000 crore under the National Monetisation Pipeline. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had announced NMP in August last year. Under the scheme government expects to collect ₹6 lakh crore by leasing public assets in different sectors.

AT 1.75 CR UNITS, AUTO SALES 10-YEAR LOW IN FY22

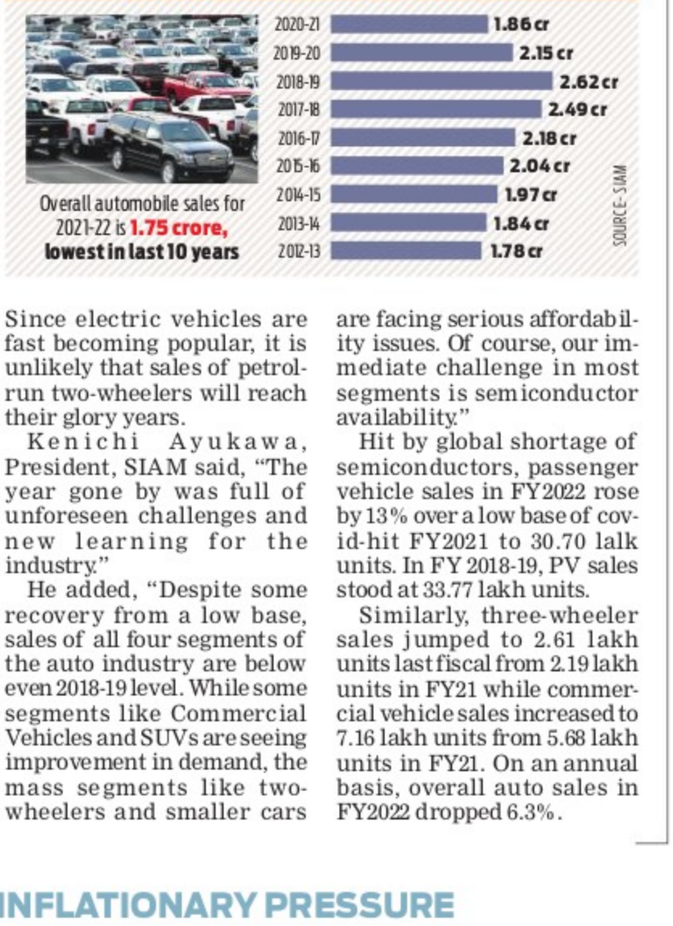
ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AT 1.75 crore units, automobile sales in FY 2021-2022 is lowest in 10 years, reveals Siam data. Last time the industry had reported sales lower than this was in FY12 as the figure in FY13 stood at 1.78 crore units.

Compared to FY 2018-19 sales, the peak year for the automobile industry, sales in FY22 was down by a whopping 87 lakh units. In FY2018-19, the industry had reported sales of 2.62 crore units.

While sales of all four segments of the auto industry in FY22 are below even FY 2018-19 level, the biggest culprit for this abysmal performance is attributed to poor demand for two-wheelers. Two-wheeler sales in FY22 stood at 1.34 crores, which also is lowest in 10 years.

Hit hard by slowdown in rural demand amid poor performance of the agrarian economy, rising cost of ownership and rising petrol prices, two-wheeler sales are showing no signs of improvement for the past few years.



Since electric vehicles are fast becoming popular, it is unlikely that sales of petrol-run two-wheelers will reach their glory years.

Kenichi Ayukawa, President, SIAM said, "The year gone by was full of unforeseen challenges and new learning for the industry."

He added, "Despite some recovery from a low base, sales of all four segments of the auto industry are below even 2018-19 level. While some segments like Commercial Vehicles and SUVs are seeing improvement in demand, the mass segments like two-wheelers and smaller cars are facing serious affordability issues. Of course, our immediate challenge in most segments is semiconductor availability."

Hit by global shortage of semiconductors, passenger vehicle sales in FY2022 rose by 13% over a low base of covid-hit FY2021 to 30.70 lalk units. In FY 2018-19, PV sales stood at 33.77 lakh units.

Similarly, three-wheeler sales jumped to 2.61 lakh units last fiscal from 2.19 lakh units in FY21 while commercial vehicle sales increased to 7.16 lakh units from 5.68 lakh units in FY21. On an annual basis, overall auto sales in FY2022 dropped 6.3%.

'High 5G spectrum price to impact telcos'

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE high base price of 5G spectrum will invite a weak participation from telecom operators in the upcoming 5G spectrum auctions, said telecom experts on Wednesday.

The high base price of spectrum, recommended by Telecom Regulator of India (Trai), will impact the debt-laden telco like Vodafone Idea, which will find difficulty in participating in the auction process.

"Vodafone Idea is yet to attract noteworthy fundraising and it is continuously losing subscribers to Airtel and Jio. This may result in muted bidding intensity from the operator and the auction process may become a playing field for only two operators," said Charu Paliwal, Research Analyst at Counterpoint Research.

Ankit Jain, Assistant Vice President and Sector Head of Corporate Ratings, ICRA Limited said even at a modest participation, the debt levels of the telecom industry are likely to elevate further to ₹4.8 lakh crore by March 2023.

"The reserve prices have been materially revised downwards by around 35-40% from the last spectrum auction and despite this, the total spectrum on offer at reserve price is valued at around ₹5.0 lakh crore for 20 years. We expect a weak participation in these auctions and even at a modest participation, the debt levels of the industry are likely to elevate further to ₹4.8 lakh crore by March 2023," said Jain.

Trai has recently launched its recommendation paper in which it recommended to cut the base rate of 3.3-3.67 GHz airwaves to ₹317 crore a unit, from ₹492 crore a unit.

It has also reduced the price of the 700 MHz band to Rs 3,927 crore, after failing to bid out in the past two sales due to high price. However, the telecom industry wants the base price reduced by 90% in order for better services.

Peeyush Vaish, Partner and Telecom Leader at Deloitte India is of view that a further price reduction of spectrum may spur Indian telecom operators towards an aggressive bidding and also help the Government monetize the unsold spectrum.

"In order to make 5G services more affordable across the country, the basic price cut was well warranted," said Vaish.

INFLATIONARY PRESSURE

Materials top pick amid rising inflation: Old Bridge

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

AT a 17 -month high of 6.9%, retail price inflation has spooked small investors who believe tighter monetary policy actions could hamper the two year market rally, but market maven Kenneth Andrade, CIO, Old Bridge Capital Management, sees opportunity even amid a rising inflationary environment.

He believes the leadership mantle would shift over the next few years from consumer driven businesses like consumer focused banks and NBFCs to companies with strong cash flows in the manufacturing, external and commodity businesses, among others.

This is because supply-led inflation has pushed up the prices of materials like ferrous and non-ferrous metals, chemicals, energy, etc, improving their cash flows and helping them to deleverage.

These firms will be able to raise their capex and improve capacity utilisation to meet the "demand which is chasing supply," explained Andrade, whose firm offers investors portfolio management services.

According to Andrade, the other beneficiary of the rising inflation is government, whose tax collections have soared due to higher prices and is thus in a better position to spend.

Therefore, the firms that receive orders for developmental work from government will be gainers, apart from those who export items like iron, steel, aluminium, foods, etc.

TCI

TCI has developed robust capabilities in multimodal Logistics via its presence across major transportation modes. The company has well-diversified service offerings from Road freight, integrated Supply Chain solutions, Sea freight, to a JV with CONCOR for Rail freight. These capabilities would be a key enabler for consistent growth in volumes and earnings for TCI over the next few years.

Worrying trend for employers, as more people may leave jobs in 2022: Study

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

IN a worrying trend for employers, more people may leave their jobs this year as compared to last year as the attrition gains momentum in 2022, according to a study released on Monday.

The survey report by Executive Recruitment & HR Consulting firm OMAM (Organization Methods & Management) shows that the overall average attrition rate at 19% is 6.9% higher this year as compared to last year, when it was 12.1%.

In terms of sectors, Banking & Financial Services reported the highest attrition at 31.5% followed by E-Commerce, IT/ITES, Pharma & Healthcare each reporting attrition of 30~31%. The lowest attrition, on the other hand, is reported by the Engineering, Manufacturing, Real Estate & Core sectors.

The five major reasons for the growing attrition levels, according to the report, include career progression, salary increase, better brand, learning and Development and work-life balance.

The report also forecasts overall average salary increment for 2022 to be 9.1%, which is 1.2% higher than the average increment for the previous year and almost similar to the increment percentage for FY year 2019 (2019 reported actual increase of 9.2%).

IT sector to see highest increase of 11.0% followed by E-Commerce and FMCG which is predicted to receive 10.5% and 10.1% average salary increase in 2022, it says.

Priti Bharti, General Manager, HR Consulting says Employees' expectations from companies have risen to over-optimistic increment figures of 15% to 20% plus. "This expected level of spike is unsustainable, much to the dismay of the workforce, encouraging them to seek out better job opportunities," she adds.

Bumrah fights lone battle again for Mumbai as Agarwal, Dhawan power Punjab Kings to victory

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

ROHIT Sharma's most common expression while on the field in the first innings was to furrow his brows. A bowler bowls a wide? An annoyed expression. A bowler not bowling to his field. A frowning forehead. An overpitched 'hit me' half-tracker? A grimace. As Punjab Kings, who threatened to score more than the 198 they ended up with after being inserted in, continued with their hedonism, one bowler acted as the speed breaker: Jasprit Bumrah.

His excellence hasn't been a secret but it's what makes him appointment viewing in the first place. Especially in 2022, because he's now firefighting for the franchise, waging a lone battle in a team that has lost its two other principal pacers over the years (Lasith Malinga and Trent Boult). After making his breakthrough with Malinga at the other end and polishing his skills when Trent Boult routinely picked up new-ball wickets, the franchise has opted for a bit of a gap year in this regard before Jofra Archer joins in 2023.

Even as Mumbai have made one of their worst starts to the season, he has ably-shouldered the responsibility. Put it this way. If Mumbai was an IPL stock, it would be trading at its lowest-ever price but investors would still look to buy Bumrah. Against Punjab, he composed poetry even as the other bowlers went for plenty. In the other 16 overs, Mayank Agarwal & Co. scored at 10.62 runs per over. Bumrah's four went for seven RPO. There's a similar disparity when you compare the exact same numbers over the five matches Mumbai has played so far. All the other bowlers have given 9.63 RPO, while Bumrah has conceded less than eight (7.96 to be exact). While that is higher than his career economy (7.02), context is everything. Teams have cottoned to the fact that Mumbai's bowlers in the current edition don't possess the same variety or skill set. And it has resulted in batters being more aggressive against Bumrah as well.

Today's match
GT VS RR
Live on Star Sports Networks, 7.30PM @ Navi Mumbai

Shikhar Dhawan, who hit 70 for the Kings, epitomised this new approach that teams may embrace even against Bumrah. He walked down the wicket in his first over to try and upset his rhythm. Off the next ball, Mayank Agarwal drove him on the up over point for a boundary. Usually, Bumrah's first overs are watchful affairs. Not on Wednesday night. On a belter of a surface, Mumbai needed Bumrah's nous if they had any chance of breaking their four-match duck. Thankfully for them, he found his mojo. Off his next 18 balls, there was one boundary, one wicket, multiple yorkers and 11 singles. He removed the dangerous Liam Livingstone to put the skids on the scoring rate. He also produced a near perfect 19th over — four yorkers and one low full-toss — to lighten Sharma's mood a touch.

However, one can safely assume his default expression — the furrowed brow — was etched on his face by the time Mumbai lost the match by 12 runs. Brief scores: PBKS 198/5 in 20 ovs (Dhawan 70, Agarwal 52) bt MI 186/9 in 20 ovs (Brevis 49, Suryakumar 43; Odean 4/30).

No USA training, UK camp ahead of CWG

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

THE proposed training stint of five Indian weightlifters in the USA has been called off. The lifters — Jeremy Lalrinnunga, Achinta Sheuli, Sanket Sagar, Bindyarani Devi, and Jhili Dalabehera — were slated to travel to the US for training with the Tokyo Olympic silver medallist Mirabai Chanu.

As per the revised schedule, Mirabai along with head coach Vijay Sharma is expected to be back in the country in a few days. She and the others are then expected to train in the country before flying out for Birmingham for a one-month camp ahead of the 2022 Commonwealth Games in the city. The CWG is scheduled from July 28 to August 8.

Mirabai and coach Sharma had flown to St Louis, USA last month to work with Dr Aaron Horschig, a former weightlifter-turned-physiotherapist. Mirabai had trained with Dr Horschig ahead of the Tokyo Games and the stint had helped her enormously as she managed to improve her snatch and that helped her finish second at the quadrennial event. "The five lifters got visa appointment on April 19. They will complete the process for future training stints but for now, they will train in the country as Mirabai and head coach Vijay Sharma are also returning," Sahdev Yadav, IWLF president, said. At present, 26 lifters, seven coaches and five support staff members are camping at the NIS centre in Patiala. The camp is being held to prepare the lifters for upcoming competitions like the CWG and Asian Games.

Boxers could leave early for Istanbul ahead of Worlds test

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

THE countdown has begun for Tokyo Olympic bronze medallist Lovlina Borgohain and rest of the elite women boxers from the country. With the IBA Women's World Championships scheduled to commence on May 8, the women boxers are gearing up for the first big assignment of the season. With the event in mind, the Boxing Federation of India (BFI), the governing body of the sport in the country, is hopeful of sending the participants well in advance for a training camp in Istanbul, Turkey, where the aforementioned meet will be held.

At present, the event-bound boxers are camping in New Delhi under the close watch of head coach Bhaskar Bhatt and other coaches. The BFI is hopeful of getting approval from the Sports Authority of India (SAI) soon. "They'll be going for a training camp in Istanbul. Two days after the camp is over, the event will begin. It's confirmed from our side, but we need to get official confirmation from SAI," a BFI official said.

A total of 13 boxers will be travelling for the event. Some of the senior members of the team include Lovlina (70kg) and Pooja Rani (81kg). A camp in Istanbul can go a long way in helping the boxers as they can get acclimated to conditions. They may also get the chance to spar with pugilists from other nations, who travel in advance with similar goals. The BFI official also said that they're actively in the process of finding a foreign coach for the women's team. It is learnt that around 15 candidates applied. It's still an ongoing process and it is learnt that some elite coaches, who have helped boxers win medals at top events, are in the running.

ATK Mohun Bagan into AFC Cup play-offs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

EVER since the Covid-19 pandemic broke out, ATK Mohun Bagan, like all ISL clubs in the country, has not been able to enjoy playing in front of their football-crazy fans at their home stadium. When the team eventually returned to action at the Salt Lake Stadium, which is among the most iconic venues in India, it turned out to be a memorable night as they thrashed the Sri Lankan club Blue Star SC 5-0, making their way into the play-offs of the AFC Cup competition.

The Kolkata outfit is one step closer to qualifying for the group stages of the second-tier continental club competition and will now face Bangladeshi side Abahani Dhaka on April 19 at the Salt Lake. This comes after Mumbai City had scripted a historic win in the AFC Champions League and while Bagan's win came in the Cup, the team is starting to be more consistent on the Asian stage.

Last season, they were humbled 6-0 by Uzbekistan's FC Nasaf in the inter-zonal playoff semifinal and the team had a disappointing outing in the recently concluded Indian Super League where they missed out on both the ISL Shield as well as the Cup. It was a below-par season for a side with top-quality players and lofty expectations. However, under Juan Ferrando, who took over in the middle of this season, the team looks to be on the ascendancy.

Night to remember for Spanish clubs

Veterans Luka Modric and Karim Benzema quelled a Chelsea fightback to help Real progress to CL semifinals. In the other game, Villarreal continued their giant-killing run. A look at what transpired on Tuesday...

MODRIC INSPIRES REAL MADRID

Things were going according to the script for Chelsea. 1-0 lead at 15 minutes, 2-0 at 51 minutes and 3-0 at 75 minutes. It looked like they were on the verge of writing one of the best comebacks in Champions League history. But Modric had other ideas. As it seemed like the match was slipping away from the home team, the veteran midfielder, who was excellent throughout the match, produced a mesmerising pass to Rodrygo with the outside of his right foot. The latter produced a one-touch finish to level the game (on aggregate). In extra time, it was Benzema who showed how deadly he's in front of the goal as he made Chelsea pay with a neat header to take the 13-time champs one step closer to glory.

DREAM RUN FOR VILLARREAL

Villarreal, known as the Yellow Submarine, and from a town of barely 50,000 people are through to the semifinals against the odds. Trailing 0-1 after first leg, Bayern were expected to mount a fightback at the Allianz Arena in Munich. After a goalless opening 45 minutes, Robert Lewandowski put Bayern ahead on the night to level the tie but Samuel Chukwueze snatched a 88th-minute goal to help the Spanish club make history.

Results: Real Madrid 2-3 Chelsea (Real win 5-4 on aggregate); Bayern Munich 1-1 Villarreal (Villarreal win 2-1 on aggregate).

US start-up to send tiny robots into human brains

Miniature robots can travel deep into the organ, help fix disorders, claims its maker Bionaut Labs

A tiny remote-controlled medical micro-robot | AFP

TECH

LOS ANGELES: Sending miniature robots deep inside the human skull to treat brain disorders has long been the stuff of science fiction — but it could soon become reality, according to a California start-up.

Bionaut Labs plans its first clinical trials on humans in just two years for its tiny injectable robots, which can be carefully guided through the brain using magnets.

"The idea of the micro robot came about way before I was born," said co-founder and CEO Michael Shpigelmacher.

"One of the most famous examples is a book by Isaac Asimov and a film called 'Fantastic Voyage,' where a crew of scientists goes inside a miniaturized spaceship into the brain, to treat a blood clot."

Just as cellphones now contain extremely powerful components that are smaller than a grain of rice, the tech behind micro-robots "that used to be science fiction in the 1950s and 60s" is now "science fact," said Shpigelmacher.

"We want to take that old idea and turn it into reality," the scientist said.

Working with Germany's prestigious Max Planck research institutes, Bionaut Labs settled on using magnetic energy to propel the robots — rather than optical or ultrasonic techniques — because it does not harm the human body.

Magnetic coils placed outside the patient's skull are linked up to a computer that can remotely and delicately maneuver the micro-robot into the affected part of the brain, before removing it via the same route. The entire apparatus is easily transportable, unlike an MRI, and uses 10 to 100 times less electricity.

In a simulation, the robot — a metal cylinder just a few millimeters long — slowly follows a pre-programed trajectory through a gel-filled container, which emulates the density of the human brain.

Once it nears a pouch filled with blue liquid, the robot is swiftly propelled like a rocket and pierces the sack with its pointed end, allowing liquid to flow out. Inventors hope to use the robot to pierce fluid-filled cysts within the brain when clinical trials begin in two years. If successful, the process could be used to treat Dandy-Walker Syndrome, a rare brain malformation affecting children. Sufferers of the congenital ailment can experience cysts the size of a golf ball, which swell and increase pressure on the brain, triggering a host of dangerous conditions.

Puzzling spike in liver disease among UK kids

HEALTH

LONDON: Scientists are investigating a puzzling spike in liver disease in children across the United Kingdom, including the cause and whether there are any links between the affected youngsters.

The UK Health Security Agency said this week that public health personnel are looking into 74 cases of hepatitis, or liver inflammation, detected in children since January.

The usual viruses that cause infectious hepatitis were not found in the cases, and scientists and doctors are considering other possible causes, including Covid-19, other viruses and environmental factors.

While some types of hepatitis are mild and don't require treatment, other forms of the disease can become chronic and be fatal.

The European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control said doctors in other countries should also report potential infections in case the outbreak is not limited to Britain. It said doctors should be on the lookout for children with jaundice and symptoms including vomiting and stomach problems.

The European agency said most cases involved children ages 2 to 5. It said some children had suffered acute liver failure. It said there were no travel links between the affected children. British officials said none of the affected children were vaccinated against the coronavirus, and they ruled out any links to Covid-19 vaccines.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Fish population may dwindle

CLIMATE CHANGE

Warming of the oceans due to climate change will lead to decline in productive fish species in the future, according to a study. The research, published in the journal Proceedings of the Royal Society B, found that as temperatures warm, predator-prey interactions will prevent species from keeping up with the conditions where they could thrive.The researchers noted that not only will large species and commercially important fisheries shift out of their historical ranges as climate warms, but they will likely not be as abundant even in their new geographic ranges.For example, a cod fisherman in the Atlantic might still find fish 200 years from now but in significantly fewer numbers, they said.

E.coli: Pizza factory raided

HEALTH

Prosecutors on Wednesday searched a Buitoni frozen pizza factory in northern France, the suspected source of an E. coli outbreak that has left dozens of children sick, as well as the headquarters of its owner Nestle France, authorities told AFP. A probe into involuntary manslaughter and deceitful practices was opened on April 1 after authorities learned of more than 70 infections, which may have caused the deaths of a one-year-old and an 18-year-old. The inspections "revealed a deterioration of food hygiene controls", the presence of "rodents" and insufficient measures to prevent pests from contaminating a food production site, authorities said in the shutdown order.

TALE OF TWO CITIES

Why Bengaluru?
- Talent Pool
- Ease of scaling
- Weather

Why not Bengaluru?
- Poor infrastructure
- High real-estate cost
- Lack of govt support

A great talent pool but poor infrastructure...entrepreneurs in namma ooru react to a tweet that has led to a face-off between the Bengaluru IT capital and Hyderabad startup scene

SANATH PRASAD

IF you take a walk on the streets of HSR Layout, Koramangala or Indiranagar, it is likely that every second or third door you knock on, would welcome you to a startup office. In fact, startup geeks on social media call the triad, the Bermuda triangle of unicorns in Bengaluru.

While Bengaluru enjoyed the 'startup capital' status until recently, a post on Twitter led to a startup face-off between Hyderabad and Bengaluru when a user shared that inspite of startups in HSR/Koramangala generating billions of dollars in taxes, the city has crumbling infrastructure. To which KT Rama Rao, IT minister of Telangana, replied by welcoming startups with open arms to Hyderabad which he claims has better infrastructure. While some feel this is a reflection of a healthy federalism and competition, others feel Bengaluru needs some serious infrastructure inspection.

Jayanti Bhattacharya, co-founder of Indian Hemp and Co., points to the lack of proper road infrastructure and skyrocketing real estate prices to be an impediment to the growth of startups here. "It is true that Bengaluru is the startup hub of India, but the ground realities suggest otherwise. Startups hardly get enough grants from the state government and the road infrastructure just makes it difficult to have our business meetings on time. Real estate is expensive and finding commercial spaces is hard," she says, adding, "We are incubated with IIMB and for me to get there from Indiranagar is hard. I can't shift my base from Bengaluru because a lot of my contacts and resources are here," says Bhattacharya, who believes that the city needs more tech parks at accessible distances.

However, Abhinav Arora, co-founder of Scenes, believes that Bengaluru is 'unbeatable' when it comes to pooling in talent and Hyderabad is yet to get there. "You can start from Timbuktu or any other place, but scaling up can happen only in Bengaluru. All you need is an idea and an internet connection, the state of roads hardly affects us," he says, adding that HSR is home to a number of unicorns and major fin tech (CRED) and e-commerce companies (Flipkart) are based in Bengaluru. "This is testimony to how Bengaluru has been conducive for the companies to grow," says Arora.

Business leaders and entrepreneurs should be the ones coming forward and voicing their concerns against poor roads, storm water drain problems and other civic issues, feels Gotama Gowda, founder of Open App. Agrees, Garv Singhal, co-founder of Farmerr, who feels that there is inefficiency in infrastructure and Bengaluru needs an introspection in that aspect. However, he adds, "The work culture in Bengaluru is far more efficient and easy-going which makes it conducive. Networking, connecting with stakeholders and the right talent is easier here considering that big tech giants are based in the city."

Startup battle

As per the Economic Survey 2021-22 report that was released, New Delhi replaced Bengaluru as the startup capital of India with over 5,000 recognised startups added between April 2019 and December 2021 against Bengaluru's 4,514 in the same period. However, experts point out that just the number of startups recognised in a given period doesn't decide whether a particular city is a startup hub or not. In fact, Bengaluru is leading the race in other metrics like the unicorn count (33), investments, size of the startups and other parameters.

Startups hardly get enough grants from the state govt. The poor infrastructure makes it difficult to have meetings on time in B'luru

Two Bengaluru millennials are changing the flower space in the city by bringing fresh pooja flowers to your doorstep and recycling wilted ones from temples

Blossoming business

EXPRESS FEATURES

FLOWER sales are on an all-time high this festive week with several celebrations lined up. To make the process easier, Hoovu Fresh is delivering fresh flowers to your doorstep. Founded by Yeshoda and Rhea Karuturi, this is an attempt to streamline the daily flowers' business. Taking it a step further, they are also bringing out hand-rolled agarbattis made out of wilted flowers.

"Flowers are an essential part of our celebrations, yet more than half the flowers harvested are being wasted. We look at upcycling these flowers which otherwise end up in landfills and oceans," says Yeshoda, adding that agarbattis are made out of recycled temple flowers. She further adds, "Usually, wastage in the flower industry is about 40 per cent but given our technology, we're able to bring it down to less than three per cent. This improves farmer productivity and also allows us to provide high-quality products to customers."

Cutting the middleman, the founders work with farmers directly. "We've worked on processing and packaging technology that extends the shelf life of the flowers from two days to 15 days," she adds.

Having grown up in a household where their father worked in the flower industry, both the sisters knew the goings-on on the field. "It was part of our growing up years," says Yeshoda, who has done her Masters from Washington University in St Louis. Having said that, she also mentions the initial hurdle they faced with consumers who were reluctant about trying out a new concept. "Making a brand around pooja flowers was completely unheard of. But we believe in our vision," she adds.

They currently have 50 women as part of their staff and plan to employ an additional 150 women and also work with 100 street flower sellers. "We are expanding our machinery with innovative new designs as we push this growth," adds Yeshoda.

Apart from households, they also supply flowers to temples directly, including Sri Gangamma Devi Temple in Malleswaram. Apart from Bengaluru, they are also present in Mysuru, Mumbai, Delhi, Hyderabad, Chennai, and Pune. "Our fresh flowers are available on various aggregators," she says.

E-cigarettes may alter organs, study finds

Daily use of pod-based e-cigarettes can alter the inflammatory state across multiple organ systems including the brain, heart, lungs and colon, claims a study. In the study, published in the journal eLife, the team exposed young adult mice to flavoured aerosols thrice a day for three months. Researchers then looked for signs of inflammation across the body. They saw striking effects in the brain, where several inflammatory markers were elevated. Additional changes in neuroinflammatory gene expression were noted in nucleus accumbens, a brain region critical for reward-processing. — IANS

WHO study supports single-dose HPV vaccine regimen

One-dose of human papillomavirus (HPV) vaccine offers solid protection against cervical cancer, according to a recent review by the World Health Organization's Strategic Advisory Group of Experts on Immunization (SAGE). The SAGE met between April 4 and 7 to evaluate the evidence that has been emerging over past years that single-dose schedules provide comparable efficacy to the two or three-dose regimens. SAGE's review concluded that a single-dose Human Papillomavirus (HPV) shot is comparable to 2-dose vaccine and protects against HPV — the virus that causes cervical cancer. — IANS

Know the signs, symptoms and treatment for autoimmune condition Juvenile Idiopathic Arthritis (JIA)

DR JYOTHI RAGHURAM

JUVENILE idiopathic arthritis (JIA) is the term used when arthritis starts below the age of 16 years and lasts for more than six weeks. While the exact cause is unknown, it is an autoimmune condition, in which the person's immune system attacks his/her joints.

If not diagnosed and treated on time, the condition significantly impacts quality of life and may lead to permanent deformity. Parents of kids who are afflicted by the disorder are often unaware about the nature of the illness, need for regular follow-ups and treatment options that are available. It is important to note that JIA is a diagnosis made after other causes of arthritis such as infections, malignancy such as blood cancer, bone inflammation and other autoimmune conditions are ruled out.

Some of the autoimmune diseases which may present with arthritis include:

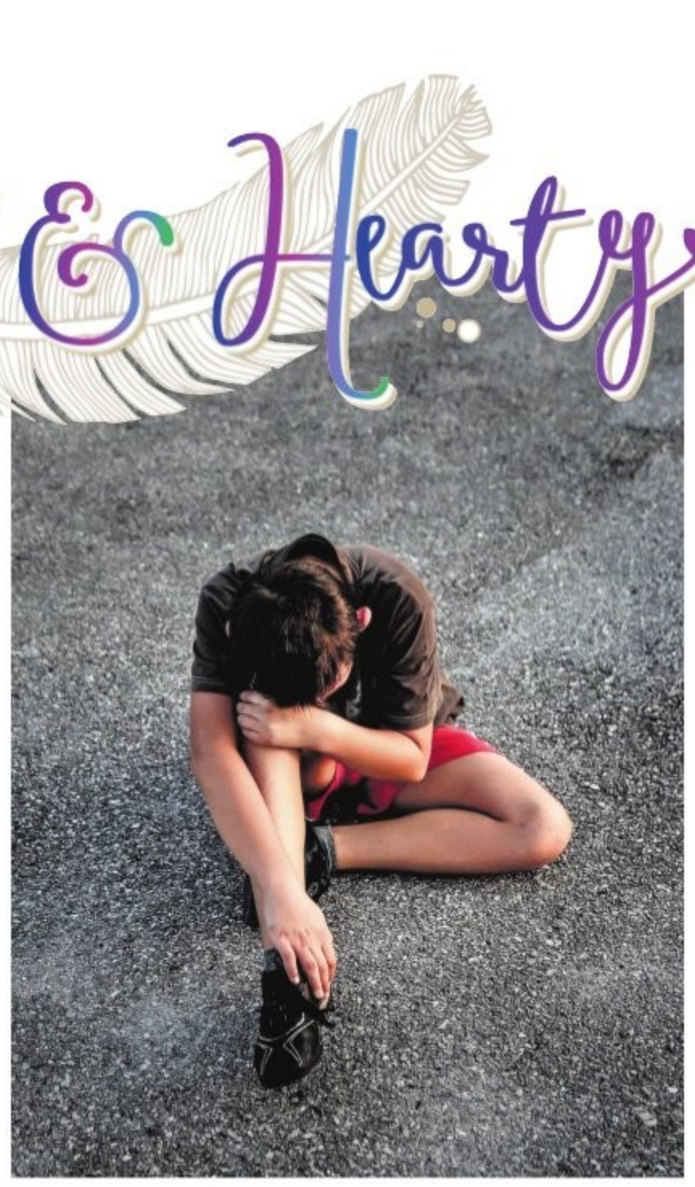
- Juvenile dermatomyositis, which causes skin rash on the eyelids and the knuckles along with muscle weakness.
- Juvenile lupus, which can affect any part of the body such as the skin, kidneys, joints, blood, etc.
- Juvenile scleroderma, which causes the skin to harden and tighten.
- Mixed connective tissue disease, which includes certain features of lupus dermatomyositis, and scleroderma.
- Fibromyalgia, which causes stiffness, aching, fatigue, disrupted sleep and a few more problems.

Signs and symptoms

- Joint pain
- Swelling
- Fever
- Stiffness that is more in the mornings on waking up or after prolonged inactivity
- Rash
- Fatigue (tiredness)
- Inflammation of the eye
- Difficulty with daily living activities such as walking, dressing, and playing

How is JIA diagnosed?

JIA is a clinical diagnosis that means there is no single test to diagnose it. The diagnosis is made by a paediatrician or paediatric rheumatologist after taking a detailed history, thorough physical examination, and some lab tests to rule out other causes of arthritis. Antibody testing (Anti-nuclear antibody, Rheumatoid factor, HLAB27 etc) will be needed to know how the arthritis may progress.



The aim of treatment is to induce disease remission (which means no disease activity) and in recent years there has been tremendous progress in the drugs available to treat JIA. While some may need treatment only for a few months with just painkillers or joint injections, most children need treatment for a minimum of two years. Equally important are regular eye examinations, growth monitoring, immunisations to prevent infections and physiotherapy.

If left untreated, a child's growth and development can be impaired, hence it is important to recognise the symptoms in your child so they can get the right treatment on time. With timely diagnosis, prompt treatment and regular follow-up most children do well and can go off medication. They continue to go to school, excel in academics, do sports and pursue their hobbies even while on treatment. For those who need to continue medication for many years, good outcomes can be ensured with the newer drugs available nowadays so that the quality of life is not affected.

MISS-FIT

Wanitha Ashok

Wanitha Ashok is a Fit India Movement Ambassador and celebrity fitness coach

1 I am a woman with a heavy bustline. Does it affect my body weight?

Yes, this weight is accountable and does add up to your overall weight. You should be more worried about the stress it places on your upper back due to gravitational pull. There is no spot reduction. But once you make lifestyle changes and start eating clean, that's the first place you will lose weight apart from your face. Make sure to support your sisters by wearing well-fitting undergarments. Correct your posture so as to not droop forward, pull your shoulders back and sit/stand upright. Strength train and flex your upper back and chest muscles to tone and prevent injuries.

2 My metabolism is high, so I'm lucky I can eat anything I want and remain slim. Do you think I need a lifestyle change?

None of us is spared from eating unhealthy or skipping exercise. Often a slim person overlooks this aspect and ends up eating more and indulging in high-calorie food in the hope of gaining weight. This can lead to the accumulation of visceral fat which covers the internal organs and is dangerous as it increases the risk of stroke, heart disease and Type-2 diabetes. So please watch what you eat. Include regular exercises, if you wish to gain weight and then consume 500 more good calories coming from fruits, veggies, nuts, protein and healthy carbs. Do more strength training and reduce cardio.

3 I tried one of those workouts trending on Instagram that assures weight loss. Do these really work?

No way! There is no way anyone can do the same exercises on an everyday basis. Exercises have to be varied to prevent repetitive stress injuries, and challenge the body. Please approach a certified trainer and workout as per your lifestyle, goals and work demands. A recent study found that 27 per cent of fitness content that's found on social media is misinformation, misleading and injurious. Exercises have it be executed with proper alignment and posture and have to be monitored especially if you are a newbie.

Gut feel

DR ANJANAA SUBRAMANIAN

ALL of us know that pain is unpleasant and happens with or even without actual damage. Let us look at how gut health or lack of it will determine how long the pain remains with us and what to do about it.

When we are in pain, the brain takes it as a stressor and the immune response is turned on. That's why we have all the signs of inflammation like redness, swelling, inability to move the part and pain. If you have pain for more than three months, it tires the immune system. In short, chronic pain is immunosuppressive and so we fall sick frequently. So, how does the gut get affected with long-term pain?

GUT-BRAIN AXIS

It is the communication between the nerve cells in the gut and the microbiota with the brain. If the gut microbiome is diverse and healthy, it will release anti-inflammatory chemicals like serotonin, norepinephrine and nitric oxide. In case of a healthy gut, the pain switch will be 'off' as soon as the tissue damage is repaired.

If gut health is poor (medications, stress, leaky gut), the microbes release chemicals which irritate the nervous system of the gut. This increases the cortisol (stress hormone) levels in the blood and puts us in a state of alarm. This can increase the pain and prevent full recovery. So, we are stuck in a pain cycle which never really goes away.

(The writer is founder, Recover Physiotherapy and Laser Therapy Center)

TIPS FOR A HEALTHY GUT

- Eat locally-available and seasonal foods. Chew well and eat in a relaxed way
- Hydrate well
- Don't depend only on water for hydration. Eat at least 2 -4 helpings of fruits and vegetables per day
- Manage stress. Spend at least 15 minutes per day doing what you like or even doing nothing
- Maintain a routine. Your hormones love it
- Restful sleep is nature's most powerful and underutilised painkiller. You heal in your sleep. Aim for at least 7 to 8 hours of sleep per night. You can have 2 -3 short cat naps of 10 minutes each during the day to recharge
- Move and move more. Movement is the best anti-inflammatory pill in your closet.

'THE PERSONA OF ROCKY BHAI HAS COME FROM WITHIN ME'

Sanjay Dutt

ADHEERA IS ONE OF THE GREATEST CHARACTERS I HAVE PLAYED: SANJAY DUTT

CE FEATURES

SANJAY Dutt as Adheera is all set to lock horns with Yash's Rocky Bhai tomorrow in KGF: Chapter 2 is released across the world. The film, which marks the debut of Sanjay Dutt in Kannada, will be seen in an avatar inspired by Vikings. Sanjay is excited about the release of KGF Chapter 2 which is slated to release on April 14.

"Adheera is one of the greatest characters I have played," says Sanjay Dutt, who speaks about the preparation it took to get Adheera's traits and looks right. "He's a powerful villain - mentally and physically. He is almost like a Viking. To ensure that I could do justice to his larger-than-life presence, I trained hard to get the physicality fit. Along with that, I mentally trained hard as well, so that I could be the greatest force to take on Yash's Rocky," he adds.

Sanjay Dutt believes that acting is a physical and mental process. "Even for my role in Agneepath, I didn't wear the bald cap or use prosthetics but completely shaved off my head. And the result has been there for everyone to see," he mentions.

A SHARADHAA

HAILING from humble beginnings, Yash dreamt one day of seeing a cutout of himself in Gandhinagar, considered to be the capital of Kannada cinema. Today, with the release of KGF: Chapter 2 taking the world by storm, the actor stands tall on billboards across almost 75 countries! Yash, known for his uncompromising approach to his brand of cinema, has cemented his pan-Indian superstardom with the Prashanth Neel directorial. This status and stardom did not come easy, and now, it is time for him to sit back and enjoy the fruits of the sacrifices he says he has made in the last six years when he trained all his focus and energy on a single project: Excerpts from a conversation:

You are now thought of as a pan-Indian star. Does the responsibility and pressure that comes with it overwhelm you?
Stardom is stardom, regardless of whether it is about a pan-India film or not. What's important is to ensure that those who come to theatres enjoy my film. So, yes, the more people who join in this revelry, the merrier. It all started with a small dream, and with support from audiences all over, we have now reached where we are.

You have always spoken about wanting to put Kannada cinema on the global map. KGF: Chapter 1 that was released four years ago can be said to be the film that opened the floodgates.
I'm so happy. I have always been vocal about this wish. Some might have even felt that I was talking too much, but I felt that this is something we should believe in. It's not just my efforts, of course. So many people, including director Prashanth Neel, producer Vijay Kiragandur, and other technicians, are responsible for this success. This was everybody's dream, and all of us have realised it.

Kannada audiences have previously registered their dissatisfaction about homegrown stars ignoring their home audience after achieving national popularity...
People have the right to feel that way, but it is important for them to understand the need for artists to branch out and do something big. Love for your language or culture need not just be reflected in one department. Trying something new will embolden your region's youngsters to dream. This is my dream and my career, but at the same time, it is also about where I come from and the industry I have been a part of. My responsibility will always be to entertain the audience and my fans. At the end of the day, cinema is about business too. It is my utmost responsibility to get so many things right.

Barring films like Baahubali, KGF, RRR, and perhaps a film like Pushpa, the whole pan-Indian label sometimes feels like a gimmick. Do you agree?
In the case of KGF, I genuinely felt that this story could be told to audiences around Karnataka, and by doing that, we believed we would get more resources and more fans. Should a film appeal to those in other regions, it must be armed with a strong story with many elements. Just having it get released all over the country doesn't make it a pan-India film. The people must embrace the film.

Director Prashanth Neel and you have grown from strength to strength over the past eight years, since your association began...
Prashanth and I have travelled together for eight years, and a lot has changed in our lives. He is a secure person, whose confidence enables him to not worry about the opinions of others... We know how much we have worked on this film. Of course, there is Viji Sir (Producer Vijay Kiragandur) too, and with him, I share a different bond. We all have immense mutual respect, and there has been a lot of learning from each other.

Now that you have become famous for a film like KGF, do you think you can ever do a 'smaller' film?
I like watching cinema with the whole family and this has always been my priority. And no, I don't think I can do something 'simple'. I like larger-than-life content, and I like for it to be something strong.

Much has been made about your film, KGF: Chapter 2, releasing alongside the Vijay-starrer, Beast.
Clash of such big films is quite common. Even with KGF: Chapter 1, I think there was another big film that came out. If somebody wants to have their film come out on a certain date, the choice is theirs. They have their calculations and reasons. Tell me one product in this country that is not part of a competitive market. Competition brings quality, and it is good. Whoever has done a good job should always win. When I choose a release date, it is only keeping in mind the film that we have made. Everybody else does the same. We should not discuss too much about these clashes.

Is it going to be hard to make audiences look past Rocky Bhai, when you do other characters in the future?
That could be the case. I don't know. As challenges go, this is a great one to take with me to my next film. With success comes the worry about what we are going to do next... It's natural, and it's okay. It is a better problem to have than concerns over whether there will be an audience for your film.

How similar is Rocky Bhai to who you are?
The persona of Rocky Bhai has come from within me. When I do another film, sure, the whole world of KGF, the gangsters, the empires... all of this changes. However, Rocky Bhai is not too different from who I am and how I think and function. This doesn't, of course, mean that I will do things that Rocky does. I think I will be able to answer this question better when I get into character for my next film. I don't mind giving up my beard and long hair too if my next role demands that.

WITH THE MUCH-AWAITED KGF: CHAPTER 2 RELEASING WORLDWIDE TODAY, ACTOR, AND NATIONAL SENSATION, YASH GETS CANDID ABOUT EXPECTATIONS, WORKING WITH PRASHANTH NEEL ONCE AGAIN, GROWTH OF KANNADA CINEMA, AND MORE
